DECORATE FOR VICTORIA DAY

The storekeepers and the public are asked to decorate their premises for Victoria Day, Tuesday next, May 24th.

We understand that a programme is to be carried out, which will include parade and sports. In the parade there will line up Boy Scouts and Girl Guides from all points between Natal and Pincher Creek. The general public are invited to join in this procession, which will be headed by a band and the "Grand Old Union Jack."

The procession will conclude at the local Athletic stadium, where sport events will be competed in.

PYTHIAN SISTERS CELEBRATE BIRTHDAY

The members of Greenhill Temple No. 10, Pythian Sisters, were hosts to about fifty visiting members from Micheli, Coleman and Hillcrest last night in the local hall, the occasion being the eleventh anniversary of Greenhill Temple.

The hall was beautifully decorated for the occasion.

Following twelve hands of whist, a couple of interesting and amusing sketches were staged, followed by vocal and instrumental selections.

Tables were set, and around 150 sat to a sumptuous cold luncheon, during which the birthday cake, bearing the nine candles, was cut and distributed.

Prizes for whist were next awarded, together with the "hope-chest," the lucky winner of the latter being Mr. H. Hales. Dancing filled the balance of time till close to 2 a.m.

BLAIRMORE PARTY STAGE FINE PLAY

One of the finest home talent shows that have been witnessed in Kimberley for a long time was presented on Friday evening, when members of St. Anne's parish, of Blairmore, Alberta, brought in their three-act play entitled "Helping Business." The play was sponsored locally by the Knights of Columbus. Under the able leadership of Rev. Father Harrington, these young people have put in a hard winter's work and have been well rewarded for their labors by getting capacity houses at almost every town that they have appeared in. Mr. J. V. McDougall, taking the part of Professor John B. Wise, caused considerable laughter, while Milo Fabro as Jupiter Jackson was just simply all that a good comic should be, and his capacity for ginger ale was apparently unlimited. The people from our neighboring province are far above the amateur class, and we sincerely hope that we shall have the pleasure of seeing and hearing them here again next year. On the Saturday morning following the party were shown through the concentrator, the surface workings at the tunnel, and the McDougall recreation hall—Kimberley Courier.

BLAIRMORE PUBLIC LIBRARY

Books being placed on the shelves this week are:

"The Winning of Barbara Worth," by Wright; "Candles in the Wind," by Maud Dues; "The Black Candle," by Janey Canuck; "The Grand Babylon Hotel," by Arnold Bennett; "The Deluge," by David Graham Phillips; "Around the Campfire," by Charles Roberts; "Strive and Succeed," by Horatio Alger; "The Motor Cycle Chums Around the World," by Lieut. Howard Payson; "Rajah the Juggler," by G. A. Henty.

The library hours are Tuesdays and Thursdays from 7 to 9 p.m., and Saturdays from 7 to 10 p.m. The fee is $1.00 per year for residents and $2.00 per year for non-residents.

GREETINGS TO BLAIRMORE

Our members will learn with interest and pleasure that felicitous relations prevail between the Blairmore School Board and the Alberta Teachers' Alliance, Inc. The letter quoted below speaks for itself; however, suffice it to say that the invitation of the Blairmore School Board to obliterate the "antigathic" and coolness of the past was correspondingly, heartily welcomed and reciprocated by the Alliance. It would not have been possible for any school board to manifest hospitality or courtesy more devoid of affectation than that displayed towards the official representative of the A.T.A. membership at the special meeting referred to in the letter. The members of the Blairmore staff also intimated a desire similar to that of the school board to be as one with the board in pulling together with the A.T.A. in the interests of education, and the members of Blairmore School Board, all present at the meeting were: MRS. R. W. H. Pinkney (Chairman), C. J. Tompkins, J. Angus McDonald, Robert Oakes and S. G. Bannan. Following is the letter received from the school board:

Blairmore, Alta.,
April 23rd, 1932.
J. W. Barnett, Esq.,
Gen. Secretary,
A. T. A.,
Edmonton, Alberta.
Dear Sir:—

As a result of your meeting with the Board of Trustees of Blairmore School District No. 628 on Friday last the resolution, herewith set out was passed unanimously and I was instructed to forward a copy of the same to the Executive of the A.T.A., as well as to the Blairmore School Staff.

Yours truly,
A. J. KELLY,
Secretary-Treasurer.

Moved by Trustee S. G. Bannan,
Seconded by Trustee R. Oakes:

"That an expression of thanks be extended from the Blairmore School Board to J. W. Barnett as a representative of the Executive of the Alberta Teachers' Alliance for his coming to Blairmore and meeting the Board and that the Board assures him of its willingness to co-operate with the A.T.A., and further that a copy of this resolution be sent to the Executive of the A.T.A. and also to the Blairmore School Staff."

Carried unanimously.
—A.T.A. Magazine.

[In connection with the above, we might mention that there are still three districts in the province "at outs" with the Alliance good standing standard, namely, Munson School District No. 2317, Lucknow S.D. 1946 and Ant. Hill S.D. 2663.]

"SOLIDARITY" EXEMPLIFIED

INCREASE IN COAL BONUS SUGGESTED

Winnipeg, May 13.—H. W. Thayer, local advocate of the "national coal policy," will be a speaker at the annual meeting of the Western Canada Coal Operators' and Sellers' convention in Saskatoon on Tuesday. He will explain how Canadian mines in Alberta and the Maritimes can capture the Ontario-Quebec market of 17,000,000 tons if the Dominion government will contribute an additional bonus of 87½ cents a ton to the $2.22 already paid.

Mr. Thayer claims that this solution will solve the unemployment problem on Canadian railways and in His plan has been endorsed by the Manitoba Conservative party, and is now being considered by the government at Ottawa. The dealers say that they can stand only a $5.00 freight rate, and the railways say any rate below $8.99 a ton would be too low. He suggests that the rail ways and the government each absorb half of the difference between the $7.32 now paid and the $8.99 required—87½ cents each.

Seventy-two days after the Lindbergh baby was stolen from his crib in the home near Hopewell, Mass., the skeleton was discovered in a bush about five miles from the home by a negro, William Allen. The body was badly decomposed, cause of death being a compound fracture of the skull, probably administered by a small hammer in the hand of the murderer.

Paradise For Fishermen

Once Barren Lakes In North Now Teeming With Trout

Trout fry placed in the heretofore barren waters of the Medicine-Maligne Lake system in Jasper Park by the fish culture branch of the Department of Fisheries, grew and multiplied so quickly that during the past summer fish as heavy as six pounds were taken by anglers and there seemed to be a limitless supply.

Using rod and line for test fishing in Maligne, Dr. Bajkow and Dr. Neave found sport "so good that three or four hours with one rod produced over 100 pounds of fish." In Beaver Lake which lies about a mile from the southern portion of Medicine Lake, "as soon as the spoon struck the water the trout rushed from all directions." In order to get some further idea as to the abundance of the fish the investigators set a 30-foot gill net in Beaver Lake. Over 400 fish were caught in about two hours, so that most of the next two hours had to be spent in cutting the meshes of the net and releasing the fish into the lake again.

The trout are growing to be big fellows, too. The first fry put into the Medicine-Maligne system by the fish culture people were distributed in 1928. That's only three years ago, but a trout taken in Maligne Lake a few weeks ago tipped the scale at six pounds, an exceptional weight for a 3-year-old speckled trout.

RESTFUL SLEEP for FRETFUL, FEVERISH CHILD

—With Castoria's regulation

When your child tosses and cries out in his sleep, it means he is not comfortable. Very often the trouble is that poisonous waste matter is not being carried off as it should be. Bowels need help—mild, gentle help—but effective. Just the kind Castoria gives. Castoria is a pure vegetable preparation made specially for children's ailments. It contains no harsh, harmful drugs, no narcotics. Don't let your child's rest—and your own—be interrupted. A prompt dose of Castoria will urge stubborn little bowels to act. Then relaxed comfort and restful sleep! Genuine Castoria always has the name.

Is Still a Mystery

No Trace Of Winnipeg Child Who Disappeared Four Years Ago

Torn and yellowed with time, a circular hangs on the bulletin board of Winnipeg's central police station, offering a reward for information leading to the discovery of Julia Johnson, a mute reminder of Winnipeg's parallel to the recent kidnapping of Augustus Lindbergh, Jr.

Four years ago Julia, a laughing, freckled Polish girl, vanished from in front of her home as mysteriously as the little son of the flying colonel. Efforts of the police of an entire continent were intensively enlisted in an effort to trace the tot, but without success.

No demands for ransom were received following Julia's disappearance. She was reported to having been seen in various sections of the city in the company of an old man. Police dogs were put on her trail and hundreds of citizens organized search parties which led into remote corners of Manitoba in a fruitless attempt to find a solution of her disappearance.

Julia would now be nine years old. Her parents still believe she will be found some day. Each year a candle is added in her home and the sympathy of at least one Winnipeg mother goes out to Mrs. Anne Morrow Lindbergh in the loss of her baby in a way that only a fellow sufferer can understand.

Collected Queer Articles

So-Called Pauper With Fortune In Bank Had Odd Hobby

Investigators in Hamilton, Ontario, probing the strange case of Abraham Markie, the so-called pauper who died leaving a bank account of $14,000 found themselves faced with the most baffling collection of articles ever seen outside of a museum today.

Markie died over a month ago, apparently in penury, and was buried at the city's expense. Later it was discovered he had $14,000 in the bank. Large packing cases were located in a storage warehouse, in Markie's name, and were opened in the presence of witnesses.

Among the things found were these: Newspaper of the Royal Hotel, many notes; 200 rubber heels, old-fashioned bartenders' rubber shirt fronts, a collection of 300 hats, coachmen's hats, plaid caps, derbies which revealed every fashion from the 80's onward; a large assortment of keys for opening sardine cans, huge stocks of bedding, coat buttons, hosiery, powder puffs of yesterday, soup spoons, patent eye testers, sample books of greeting cards, paper ice cream spoons and many other peculiar articles.

Largest Welded Bridge

What is considered the largest welded bridge in the world has just been completed in Pilsen, Czechoslovakia. It crosses two railroad tracks, has a span of 161.4 feet, and a width of 27.4 feet. The total weight is 145 metric tons, which is said to be 21 per cent. less than that of a riveted structure designed for the same purpose. Another unusual feature is the spiral ramp at one end, necessitated by limited space.

IT CATERES FOR A SCARE EFFECT THAT WILL "STAY PUT"

Delightfully young and smart is this new slim-line model.

Since crepe silk both plain and print is so charming, it was chosen for this fascinating model.

It is light navy blue spotted in red. The soft crushed neck collar gives it such distinction in plain white crepe.

Another ideal suggestion is plain crepe in soft beige shade self-trimmed.

For summer wear, handkerchief linen prints, batiste prints and tub silks are size mediums.

You'll find it very simple to fashion, and the cost unbelievably small. Style No. 899 is designed for sizes 16, 18, 20 years, 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust. Size 16 requires 3 1/2 yards of 36-inch material with 1/2 yard of 36-inch contrasting.

Price of pattern 25 cents in stamps or coin (coin is preferred).—Wrap coin carefully.

Great Canadian Hero

Colonel Mulloy Set High Example For Loyalty To The Empire

Colonel Lorne Winfield Mulloy, D.C.M., B.A., died unexpectedly at his home on the St. Lawrence River, Iroquois, Ontario, at 11:30 p.m. Sunday, February 21st, 1932, from heart attack, aged 55 years. Thus, with dramatic suddenness, there was removed from Canadian public life, one of its most brilliant intellects and inspiring figures.

Blinded in the South African War, Colonel Mulloy mastered every obstacle imposed by his wounds, cheerfully created fresh obstacles to surmount, scorned the paths of least resistance, was supremely successful in all tasks he undertook, and his death came at a time when his powers of intellect and his great executive abilities appeared destined to still further achievements.

Born on a Canadian farm, blinded in his early twenties, he continued his education with the aid of a secretary, graduated with honors from two famous universities, became one of the most outstanding speakers of our day on subjects of political economy, was offered more than once a seat in the British House of Commons, was on the staff of the Royal Military College, became a successful practising lawyer, and his services to Canada during, and immediately after the war, were sufficiently conspicuous to deserve amplification.

He has been referred to as the father of Union Government in Canada. His fight and arguments for compulsory military service are believed to have been the deciding factor in causing the United States to declare against the inefficiency of voluntary enlistment.

As early as 1910 he was one of the leaders in Great Britain in the fight for tariff reform and Empire preferences, such as are now being negotiated by the several governments affected.

Mulloy's physical handicap was not perceptible to his friends, and he refused to recognize his lack of sight as either a misfortune or a handicap. His physical assurance was magnificent. He could swim, ride, row, fish, or drive a golf ball with any man. Alone he has piloted a row boat across the St. Lawrence River in a gale. He could untangle a fishing line more quickly than any companion. He never walked except at a stride. He has ever been an incessant traveller, and he never had an accident.

His humour was scintillating, clear and infectious; invariably he looked through and beyond the dark side of life. He was the soul of sincerity, generosity and integrity.

Mulloy's life should be printed in every school book, told from every pulpit and repeated at every Canadian gathering. As a practical and thrilling inspiration to the boys and girls of this country, this epic of courage and triumph and high ideals will perhaps never be exceeded.

Many Objects Which Seem Small Are Very Wonderful

A drop of blood contains three million red globules, and there are more grains in the mill of a single codfish than men in the world. So small is this germ that one grain of sand is four million times larger than it. A hundred strands of the silkworm are just one-twenty-fifth of an inch thick when placed side by side, but there are some metals that can be drawn out to such a fineness that twelve hundred wires are only as thick as a hundi-cil silkworm threads.

JACOB AND ESAU RECONCILED

Golden Text: "Be ye kind one to another, tenderhearted, forgiving each other, even as God also in Christ forgave you."—Ephesians 4:32.
Lesson: Genesis 32, 33.
Devotional Reading: Matthew 6:9-15.

Explanations and Comments

Jacob's Preparations, verses 1, 2.—Looking up Jacob saw Esau approaching with four hundred men. The presence of so many men with Esau may be accounted for by his having just made his expedition to Mount Seir, where he conquered the land in which he afterwards settled. Genesis 36:3, Esau's daughter, suggests that he may have wished at the same time to make his brother anxious and show him the contrast between their respective positions. Jacob evidently feared the worst. He was keenly aware of what he deserved at his brother's hands. He arranged his little company and put the handmaids and their children first. Leah and her children were in the safest place in the rear, his best-loved ones, Rachel and Joseph.

"Though courts of law neglect to curb transgression, the court of conscience always is in session."

The Meeting Of the Brothers, verses 3-11.—Jacob passed over the ford first and showed Esau the greatest reverence by bowing himself to the ground seven times. Esau ran to meet and embrace Jacob, falling on his neck and kissing him as was the custom among friends. Jacob's position and his flattering attitude disarmed him. Dr. Skinner thinks that Esau's compulsory military service was gained a diplomatic victory over him. Rather does it seem that Esau had no ill feelings against Jacob. He had dismissed the affair of the birthright with a shrug, as it were, and now verbally said, "Don't mention our trouble. I have got along famously without the birthright and without you." Whatever the actuating motive, he was magnanimous. "If thou must have my revenge on thine enemy, heap coals of fire on his head, forgive him, and enjoy it!"—Thomas Browne.

Recipes For This Week

(By Betty Barclay)

LEMON SPONGE PIE

(Makes 1 pie)

- 3 egg yolks, beaten thick
- 5 tablespoons lemon juice
- 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
- 1 cup sugar
- 3 tablespoons flour
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 tablespoon melted butter

14 cups pastry.

3 egg whites.

Uncooked pastry.

Combine all ingredients, folding in last stiffly beaten egg whites. Turn into pie tin lined with uncooked pastry and put into hot oven (450 degrees Fahrenheit) for 10 minutes. Reduce heat to moderate (350 degrees Fahrenheit) and bake 20 minutes longer, or until filling is firm.

ALL-BRAN CRISP BREAD

- 3 cups flour
- 2 cups all-bran
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon soda
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- 1 tablespoon sugar
- 1/2 cup molasses
- 2 cups milk
- 2 cups milk
- 2 tablespoons melted butter
- 1 cup chopped nuts

Sift dry ingredients. Add bran. Then add molasses, egg slightly beaten to milk. Stir into dry ingredients, mixing well. Add nuts and melted butter. Pour into a well greased loaf pan. Let stand 15 minutes. Bake in a moderate oven, (325 degrees Fahrenheit) from one to one and one-half hours.

Story Of Near Disaster

Crew Of Small Motor Tanker Fight Blazing Fire While Crossing Atlantic

Trapped by a blazing fire while crossing the Atlantic the crew of the little motor tanker "John George," fought for hours to subdue a blaze that threatened destruction of the 76-ton vessel. For 28 days after the blaze had been extinguished the 130-foot ship was steered by hand all the way across the ocean and brought into Montreal.

The story of near disaster to the "John George" was related in a casual way by her captain, Arthur George. The "John George," en route to the Imperial Oil Works at Toronto, left Greenwhich April 7.

Esquimo Brings Sick Wife To Churchill In Small Boat

The dangers of official soap in the dressing rooms of all the great film studios! Your skin will respond to it. Too! The cream of toilet soaps! French soap for just 10c a cake!

His wife took sick and as she sank lower Eskolo determined to risk all in the hope the hospital at Churchill would save her life. Unable to travel by dog team, he took out his seal-covered boat and set out on the long trip. He hugged the rugged coast line of the bay, avoiding the ice that swept round him and threatened to swamp his canoe with the precious burden.

For nearly two weeks he travelled. His store of food was nearly exhausted, and he was visibly worn, with the hardship of the long paddling, when he crawled over the ice surrounding the port bringing his wife.

Medical men at Churchill say that his wife has a minor stomach trouble that will be easily cured under proper care but would have likely cost her life if she had not been rushed down to receive medical attention.

Eskolo brought a big collection of furs to pay for the white man's magic, but workmen here have taken up a collection to pay his expenses.

Russia Arranges Credit With Turkey

Based On Goods Exchange Without Actual Money Payments

A new economic alliance between Soviet Russia and Turkey, under which this country is extending an $8,000,000 long term credit to its Islamic neighbor, has been announced by Foreign Minister Tewfik Ruzhdi Bey of Turkey.

The credit is the first ever granted by the Soviet Government, until now has been a sealer instead of a giver of credit in the world market. It is based on an exchange of goods in kind without actual monetary payments.

Under the agreement Soviet Russia will sell industrial tools, agricultural machines and fertilizers to Turkey, receiving as payments its choice of Turkey's natural resources, such as tobacco, wool, fruits and minerals.

Czechoslovakia may increase its sales tax by 25 per cent.

"Beg pardon, my lady," he said, touching his hat. "Sir Adrian sent me to say that he's waiting for you in the car just along the road there. He pointed to where, on the white ribbon of road which crossed the Moor not far from the base of the for, a stationary car was waiting. Claire, her face ashen, turned to Nick in mute appeal.

"Sir Adrian? I thought he left for London this morning?"

Nick shot the question fiercely at the chauffeur, but the man's face remained respectfully blank.

"No, sir, Sir Adrian drove as far as Exeter and then returned. Afterwards we drove on here, sir, and they told us in the village we should find you at Shelston Towers."

Meanwhile the other members of the party were becoming aware that some contretemps had occurred. Claire's white, stricken face was evidence enough that something was amiss, and simultaneously Lady Anne and Jean hurried forward, filled with apprehension.

"What is it, Claire?" asked Lady Anne, suspecting bad news of some kind. "What has happened?"

Recognizing the Charnewood livery, she turned to the chauffeur and continued quickly: "Has Sir Adrian met with an accident?" She could conceive of no other cause for the man's unexpected appearance.

"No, my lady, Sir Adrian is waiting in the car for her ladyship."

"Waiting in the car?" repeated Jean and Lady Anne in chorus.

The little group of friends drew closer together.

"Don't you see what it means?" broke out Claire in a low voice of intense anger. "It's been all a trick—a trick! He never meant to go to London at all. He only pretended to me that he was going, so that I should think that I was free and he should keep me." She looked at Nick and Jean significantly. "He must have

Too Much ACID

MANY people, two hours after eating, suffer indigestion. They call it. It is usually excess acid. Correct it with an alkali. The best way, the quick, harmless and efficient way, is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained for 50 years the standard with physicians. One spoonful in water neutralizes many times its volume in stomach acids, and at once. The symptoms disappear in five minutes.

You will never use crude methods when you know this better method. And you will never suffer from excess acid, when you prove out this easy relief.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 50c a bottle—any drug store.

concentration which reminded her forcibly of his brother—and she rather dreaded what it might portend. Her thoughts were still occupied with the afternoon's unpleasant episode, and with the possible consequences which might accrue, as she climbed into Burke's high dog-cart.

She had had a fleeting notion of claiming Claire's vacant seat for the homeward run, but had dismissed it. Since actually Claire's absence merely served to provide comfortable room for Blaise in the Willow Ferry car, which had held its full complement of passengers on the outward journey. Moreover, she reflected that any change of plan, now that she had agreed to drive back with Burke, might only lead to trouble. He was not in a mood to brook being thwarted.

A big, raked chestnut, on wires to be off, danced between the shafts of the dog-cart, irritably pawing the ground and jerking her handsome, satin-skinned head up and down with a restless jingle of bit and curb-chain. She showed considerably more of the white of a wicked-looking eye than was altogether reassuring, as she fought impatiently against the compulsion of the steady hand which gripped the reins and kept her, against her will, at a standstill.

The instant she felt Jean's light foot on the step her excitement rose to fever heat. Surely this must mean that at last a start was imminent and that that firm, masterful pressure on the bit would be released!

But Burke had leaped forward to tuck the light dusting around Jean's knees, and regarding this further delay as beyond bearing the chestnut created a diversion by going straight up in the air and pirouetting gaily on her hind legs.

"Steady now!" Burke's calm tones fell rebukingly on the quivering, sensitive ears, and down came two shining hoofs in response, as the mare condescended to resume a more normal pose. The next moment she was off at a swinging trot, breaking every now and again out of pure exuberance of spirits, into a canter, sternly repressed by those dominating hands whose quiet mastery seemed conveyed along the reins as an electric current is carried by a wire.

"You needn't be afraid," remarked Burke. "She'll settle down in a few minutes. It's only a 'table ahead' feeling she's suffering from. There's not an ounce of vice in her composition."

"I'm not afraid," replied Jean composedly.

Arguments Against Bay Route

Montreal Man Has Faith In Northern Seaway As Potential Grain Outlet

"Most of us older men remember the struggle for recognition of the St. Lawrence route when all the present arguments against the Hudson Bay route were put forward against the St. Lawrence," declared Thomas Harling, veteran Montreal ship agent, in defending the Hudson Bay route as a potential grain carrier.

"All these objections were overcome in time, and the St. Lawrence is now an accepted fact. Furthermore, it is not many years ago that Vancouver was thought an impossible outlet for Canadian grain. It was said that it could not be carried through the tropics via the Panama Canal. This route is now established and is unquestionably the greatest advantage to the Alberta farmers," Mr. Harling continued.

"Would it not be better for those interested in the grain trade of Canada to try and help, rather than to hinder, this new route, which it becomes established, as in time I firmly believe it will, can be of very great benefit to all grain growers in the northern sections of the prairie provinces? It is my opinion, despite its comparatively short season of navigation, that the Hudson Bay route will carry a very considerable trade both eastward and westward, and will result in a great saving in transportation costs to the large area of country directly tributary to it," he said.

Mr. Harling added the owners of the "Farnsworth" and "Waverley," which opened the route as grain carriers last year, were entirely satisfied with their experiences and were ready to send these steamers again or other tonnage required during the coming season. They were willing to accept rates not exceeding those paid last season, he said.

Best oil cheapest in home, says factory sup't.

"The last thing we'd try to economize on," says the superintendent of a large eastern motor, "is lubricating oil. By using cheap oil we could have hundreds of dollars each year lost. It would cost us thousands of dollars for repairs, replacements and lessened efficiency of equipment."

The same is true in the home. If all housewives knew what factory men know about lubrication, few of them would use anything but 3-in-One Oil for their expensive sewing machines, vacuum cleaners, electric fans, lawnmowers, washers, and other household devices. 3-in-One, a blend of mineral, vegetable and animal oils, is the best oil for household use; for it cleans and protects as well as lubricates.

Ask for the old reliable 3-in-One Oil at food, drug, grocery, hardware, department and general stores. For your protection, look for the trade mark "3-in-One" printed in red on every package.

No Combatant Ships Cruising On Atlantic

Something That Was Never Known Before World War

No combatant ships of the United States navy remain on the Atlantic Coast—something never known before the World War. The theory that the United States must adhere to the policy of distributing units of the fleet to protect industrial Eastern States is still recognized in navy plans, but except Great Britain there is now not sea power on the other side of the Atlantic that could afford to challenge our naval strength.

Great Britain is so sure of the goodwill of this country that her warships on duty in the West Indies and at Halifax are mere patrol boats. One of them was ordered to St. John's, Nfld., the other day when street rioting threatened.

At the present time the United States fleet is in the Pacific, the battleships, and their auxiliaries in home waters, and a squadron in the Caribbean. There they are likely to pass the summer. Not a single combatant ship flies her flag in the Atlantic, although the principal yards and bases are on this coast, and strategic Guantanamo, with Culebra, San Juan, and Porto Rico, may be said to have only caretakers.—New York Times.

Cling To Old Customs

People In Siam Keep Up Habits Of Ancestors

Slaving the heads of men and boys in Siam, a religious rite, and is performed in the temple by priests. Although the Siamese have an up-to-date king, Pradjadul and numerous western ways are being introduced into their government. Life, they remain at least typically oriental and cling to the ancient customs of their ancestors. While elephants march in their sacred processions, maidens dance in the temples as they have been for centuries, the king is carried in a palanquin, and, save for the occasional buzzing of an airplane, the visitor to Siam could easily forget that he is living in the 20th century.

How Air Films Are Made

Handicaps Have Been Overcome By Use Of Motor Driven Cameras

Film stories of aviation present more handicaps during production than almost any other type of screen fare, according to Stephen Roberts, Mr. Roberts is the wartime aviator and former stunt flier who went to Hollywood to direct "Sky Bride."

"The one reason airplane movement fails to furnish drama and interest is because of the 'plane's lack of background," he said on his return. "In playing action against a blank, even a cloudy sky, it is difficult to convey a sense of speed."

With the cameras on the ground, the airplanes usually are so distant that the speed is lost on the screen. With the cameras in a balloon or on a high tower, the range of their activity is limited. With the cameras in another 'plane, both camera-ship and the 'plane being photographed must travel at relatively the same speed to allow filming of close shots, and once more all sense of speed is lost.

"Electrically controlled cameras are the way we succeed in capturing effective scenes in the air. We attach these motor-driven cameras to the rim of the cockpit, pointing backward, right into the flier's face."

"We rehearse the scenes on the ground, then the camera boys up aloft. When the right altitude is reached, the actors press a switch and the camera starts grinding while the actor plays the scene himself, without direction."

Little Helps For This Week

"Bear ye one another's burdens, and so fulfill the law of Christ."—Galatians vi. 2.

What is the real good? I asked in musing mood. Order, said the law-courier; Knowledge, said the school; Truth, said the wise man; Pleasure said the fool; Love, said the maiden; Beauty, said the beauty; said the dreamer; Home, said the sage; Fame, said the soldier; Equity, the seer; Spoke my heart full audly, "The answer is not here. Then within my bosom, So softly I heard, "Each heart holds the secret, Kindness is the word!"

John Boyle O'Reilly.

But now God has so ordained it that we should learn to bear one another's burdens, for there is no one who has no some defect, no one without some burden, no one independent of others, no one wise enough of himself, but we ought to bear with one another, comfort one another, help, instruct, and advise one another.

It is also an excellent remedy for all manner of cuts, bruises and sprains, as well as for relieving the pains arising from inflammation of various kinds. A bottle in the house and stable saves many a doctor's and veterinary's fee.

Canada's Arctic Citizens

Over 7,000 Eskimos Living In Our Northern Hinterland

There are approximately 7,100 Eskimos in Arctic and sub-Arctic Canada, including Hudson Bay, scattered in small groups, principally in the Arctic Islands and along the northern seaboard. Canadian Eskimos are progressive. The more advanced have, in their homes, sewing machines, gramophones and radio outfits. In the Mackenzie delta and along the western Arctic coast the ambition of the head of a family is to own a schooner fitted with an auxiliary gasoline engine. At Alkivik during the summer as many as twenty-five of these schooners, all owned by natives, are frequently to be seen at one time.

It seems that the spirit of the age is against tea. "I wouldn't dream of taking up time and space with all the paraphernalia of a tea table," says a very modern hostess; "We usually play bridge and a stop for tea would be a nuisance." So we are back again at the days when we pay Lord Sandwich too busy with gambling to bother about lunch, invented the snack which bears his name.

To Bring Back Prosperity

Only Way Is By Harder Work and Better Work

If we allow ourselves to believe that so intangible, mysterious thing called "recovery" is going to improve our lot without any assistance from ourselves we will soon lose the trenches we have gained. The last three years have chastened the instinct for laziness which is one of our racial disadvantages. The last three years has driven the well-dressed idler into work or obscurity. The last three years has forced us to place sport and recreation generally in their proper relation to the serious business of life. We cannot afford to abandon the stern discipline we have learned. Harder work and better work is the only way to reach the promised land of prosperity. By the sweat of our brow alone will we get good things again.—Daily Express, London, England.

DECLARE THEY HATE SIGHT OF DUST CLOTHS

Canadian women vote dust cloths a nuisance to use and to wash

MUCH PREFER APPLEFORD WONDER PAPER

With so much inventive thought being given to eliminating unnecessary household work, it is only natural that a worthwhile substitute for the usual dust cloth should be sought.

Now it has been found! Appleford Wonder Paper which actually dusters—as it cleans—as it polishes is receiving a hearty welcome from Canadian women who dread dust cloths and all their attendant. Wonder Paper is made from clean rags and soft paper pulp, thoroughly impregnated with a high-grade furniture polish, and absorbs dirt instead of spreading it. Appleford Wonder Paper comes in handy-size packages, even five times as large as a duster. You merely crumple a sheet into a soft pad, and go over the surface requiring attention.

You'll be amazed at the quick and lasting finish Wonder Paper gives. When one side is worn and soiled, simply turn the Wonder Paper inside out. After the furniture or woodwork has been gone over, you can still use your Wonder Paper on the floor.

And when you're through—throw it away. No dust to shake out or wash. No bother at all. The most realistic part of household work done in half the time and with half the effort. Doesn't the idea appeal to you?

Special Offer

Wonder Paper is made by the makers of the famous PARA-SANI heavy waxed paper in the Green Box. Most grocery hardware and department stores sell Appleford Wonder Paper. If you can't, write to us for our 100 recipes for "Left-overs," containing one hundred recipes, as a bonus for your trouble.

Appleford Paper Products, Ltd., Hamilton, Ontario. Enclosed find 25c for which please send me one full-size package of WONDER PAPER. I will also send you 100 recipes for "Left-overs."

CRIME-NEWS PUBLISHING

Two or three times we have had subscribers tell us that unless we publish the news of the police court they will stop their subscription to this paper. We have granted them that privilege of course, but have not committed ourselves to a policy of publishing crime news. There are arguments in favor and against this publication of crime news, says the Cardston News.

Some contend that to publish such items from week to week tends to discourage people from getting into the police court. Knowing that their names will appear in the columns of the local paper under the heading of police court news, people hesitate very much before they run the risk of getting into court. Then, too, there is the point that police court items are news, and live news at that, and it seems hardly the prerogative of a paper to suppress the news. Rather, it is the business of a paper to find all the news, and publish it at the earliest possible moment. There may be other reasons in favor of the policy, but these are the stock arguments used.

On the other hand, it is really questionable, and it is argued by a number of the very best papers, if the publication of police court news does deter from crime. "Vice is a monster of such hideous mien, etc." as goes the famous couplet of Pope's, that when people learn from the police court all the evils that go on about them, the question arises as to whether they do not first pity, then endure, and then embrace the same evil tendencies. The honest paper has a moral obligation to its readers, as well as an obligation to furnish news. There is also the question as presented by no less a paper than the New York Times, whose caption on its mast head is "All The News That Is Fit To Print." Evidently in this great newspaper the editor reserves the right to determine what news is fit to print.

Finally, the demand made for police court news often savors of the desire to see someone else "shown up." In many cases if we published all the news we would, before long, have some of those very gentlemen well described in the police news. It is a strange quality of human nature that one always wants the fullest details about the other fellow printed up well, but a real live story about himself he would much rather have suppressed. It thus often happens that while we try to protect the public generally we often make the local paper a dud so far as sensational news is concerned. We are sure that if we set out to make this paper sensational we could succeed in doing so. Whether that would be a public service or a stain upon the community we have not yet decided.—Wainwright Star.

MARCH MOTOR OUTPUT

Official Ottawa figures show that production of automobiles in Canada during March was the greatest for any month since May of last year. March of this year exceeded by 50% the February total, which in turn was 47% of the total produced in Canada.

The production curve in Canada usually pursues a course steadily upward from January to April. This year, it is believed by some authorities, that May and June will also share in the upward trend. Unreasonable weather has helped this year to thrust back the traditional buying season.

THE GREENS HAD A WORD FOR THEM

"Cover-Charge!" at the night club "Counter-Charge!" at the stores. And it was the man who paid these three gorgeous gold diggers who joyed and re-joyed their way up from the spent-bosses in the pouring torrents to the penthouses on Park Avenue.

The exquisite Chanel creations and the stunning Richard Day sets, and the splendid George Barnes photography would in themselves certainly make it worth while seeing "The Greens had a Word For Them," appearing at C/o's Theatre this week end. But that's not all. Zoe Atkins is a wit at writing gold-digger plays, and Sidney Howard is as fine a movie adapter as the talkies boast. He has turned out a smart, funny and sophisticated flicker which should give the folks plenty much eye-fod and ear-fod during its Bialto run. Lowell Sherman, who plays a small but important part in the picture, jolted at the megaphone. His job is deftly and smoothly done. And indeed, that seems to be the general note of "The Greens." It is smooth, finished, finished. Nothing weighty about it that might suggest cinema as a higher art, but eighty minutes worth of celluloid that is a pleasure to behold and quite joyful to hear.

If you saw the stage version, you'll know that the theme concerns three exiles of the chorus who spend their days hunting millionaires and their evenings spending the millionaires' cash.

Jean, Schatz and Polaire are all blondes, and each has her own subtle way of working womanly wiles. Jean is an out-and-out vamp; she'll steal the other gals' boy-friends if she has half an opportunity. Schatz is inclined to elderly gentlemen who are soon due to pass away and who'll remember her in their wills. Polaire is the romantic one. She prefers her rich guys young and handsome. And, except that it costs so much to keep a girl in bracelets and sables, she doesn't really care whether the man is rich or not—if he's young and handsome, and tender.

Polaire actually falls for the youthful Dey Emery, son of wealth. And he wants to marry her. She's set to do so, but she gives him up to pursue a piano-playing career, at the inducement of a certain Boris Feldman, ex-bean of the vixen Jean. However, Feldman forgets all about his arrangement with Polaire, and Dey turns up once again. Wedding bells are about to ring for them when Jean once again steps in and spoils the picture.

Go on from there yourself. You don't want to miss this picture. Ina Claire gives a most delightful and spontaneous performance as the incorrigible Jean. Madge Evans is a sweet-faced and pretty clever Polaire. And Jean Blondell is her bright, wisecracking side in the role of Schatz, who's forever protecting Polaire against the scheming Jean. The trio wear Mlle. Chanel's costumes gorgeously. Phillip Smalley, Sidney Bracy and David Manners do male duty, besides Mr. Sherman.

"The Greens" is just about the dullest picture piece we've seen. It's as bubbly as the champagne the girls imbibe throughout its reels and sparkling too!

A farewell dance was given in the schoolhouse on May 11 for Mr. and Mrs. P. Aschacker, who are leaving for Calgary on May 17, where Pete has obtained a new position. A presentation was made by Mr. G. Evans (Mr. Aschacker's successor here) of a beautiful bouquet of flowers to Peggy, and a handsome watch to Pete subscribed for by the citizens as a token of the esteem and popularity in which they are held. On the case of the watch was engraved "From the Saunders gang." Mr. Evans, on handing the presents over, said when Pete is blue and depressed, he would pull out the watch and look at the motto, and think over the very happy times he had with the "gang" at Saunders.—Saunders Note in Red Deer Advocate.

SCOUT NEWS

The chief conversation amongst the scouting enthusiasts is "camp." This year's programme should be quite a bumper one. It is expected that 100 boys will make up the camp party, and, considering the times, the location will be as near to The Pass as possible, both from an economic point of view and convenience. However, spirits are high, and if this is any indication of success, then carry the happy feeling to the end of the programme, and we are assured of the results.

At the conclusion of the usual Tuesday evening picture show, a very pleasant ceremony was performed before a large gathering of the Scout fraternity, when Douglas Wilson was initiated as a Scout, this very interesting ceremony closing with three cheers for Scout Wilson.

The value of scouting for boys is being daily demonstrated throughout the world, especially so when these boys put their training into practice as happened recently in Alberta, and detailed by the Calgary Herald correspondent, as shown below, we begin to see the results of labors well spent. We raise our hats to the Boy Scouts of the First Vermillion group, and especially to the rescuers of Olive Brown and Reider Jensen. They were prepared, and let this be a lesson to others to be prepared.

"Recommendation, as a sign of due recognition for their bravery and skill in rendering first aid on the part of several Boy Scouts of the First Vermillion group, has been received by provincial Scout headquarters in Calgary, sponsored by Mayor W. A. Falow, and Dr. W. W. Bell, of Vermillion, who state that the action of the Scouts was responsible for the saving of at least one or two lives.

"Briefly, the story of these boys' heroism on Saturday, April 30, was as follows:

"Clive Brown, age 6 years, was playing on the dam on the Vermillion river, and fell into a deep pool by the overflow. Reider Jensen, a young immigrant lad, who was standing nearby, immediately jumped into the pool, but was carried away by the current, and could not reach the victim. Hearing shouts for help, Scout B. Brown, 13 years, a brother of the unfortunate Clive, ran across the dam and along the bank and dived into the river. He was followed by Scout Bill Stepanuk, 14 years, who also dived to the assistance of Brown and Jensen, but was caught in some wire netting close to the bank, and had to use all his efforts to extricate himself.

"Meanwhile, Scout Brown had been successful in getting hold of his young brother but was unable to bring him to shore owing to the great force of the current in the eddy, and called for help. Jensen then went in again, though considerably weakened by his first attempt and the coldness of the water, and was able to assist Brown to get the young lad into calmer water, where Scouts Brincombe and Ferrell Furness with the aid of long poles drew Jepsek and Clive Brown to the bank, Bob Brown reaching the bank himself, but being so exhausted that both he and the other two had to be taken out of the shallow water by these two Scouts.

"Brincombe and Furness, who had kept their heads and realized that so long as Brown and Jensen could make the rescue, their services would be more valuable on shore, immediately began artificial respiration on Clive Brown, at the same time sending for a doctor, and had restored animation to the lad before the arrival of Dr. W. W. Bell. Bob Brown and Jensen were both very exhausted and in a state of collapse when helped from the water, and were looked after by Scoutmaster Urquhart who arrived with Dr. Bell.

"In the opinion of Dr. Bell, the prompt action of Brincombe and Furness, in applying the correct artificial respiration to Clive Brown, was responsible for the final saving

It's only youth who can be really unhappy—they resent it so when life disappoints them. But as we grow older we see it is the race that is to blame, not the individual.—N. I. McClung.

The stout woman slipped on the icy top step of the stairway and rolled to the bottom, carrying with her a small man who had been coming up just behind her. As the landing was reached, the little man waited a moment for action; then, lifting his head as far as circumstances would permit, gasped: "You'll have to get off here, lady. This is as far as ye go."

Totem Pole golf week at Jasper Park Lodge has been set for September 3 to 10 inclusive. The feature of golf week is the competition for the silver Totem Pole golf trophy, one of the most beautiful golf trophies now competed for on the continent. Golf week is open to amateurs only and brings together players from all parts of the United States and Canada.

A despatch from Moscow tells of aeroplanes being used to seed wheat. Each plane is equipped with a sowing spray sixty-five feet wide and can cover 300 acres a day. Of course, Russian propagandists will insist on telling Canadian people that machinery is not permitted to take the place of manual labor in Russia—hence, all people have an equal earning power. Yes, yes!

Hon. Fern Baker, minister of education, has announced that the annual departmental examinations will commence on June 16th. Written papers will be handled in all subjects in Grades 11 and 12, and all in Grade 10, with exception of literature and composition. In the lower grades, up to and including Grade 9, promotion would be on the basis of recommendation by the teacher as a result of the year's work.

Captain Robert Bartlett, veteran Arctic explorer, is once more outfitting his schooner "Morrisey" for an expedition which will take him to Cape York, on the northern coast of Greenland. He expects to sail about June 1. His latest mission, however, is not one of exploration, but to honor the memory of Admiral Peary, discoverer of the North Pole. The "Morrisey" has been commissioned by Mrs. Marie Peary Stafford, Admiral Peary's daughter. Accompanied by her mother and her two sons, Mrs. Stafford will take to the northland a 60 foot stone shaft, which will be erected on one of the Cape York cliffs, in memory of the famous explorer.

A few weeks ago, we entered a restaurant in Alberta. A Chinaman drew our attention to certain papers and asked: "You know that fellu, there?" pointing to one member of the party who, by the way, was an undertaker. Replying "yes," the Chinaman continued: "He 'clazy, velly clazy! He say to me 'Why hell you no die?' I think, maybe he look fer business. He damn clazy!"

Many references at gatherings in Canada and the United States are made to the "4,000 miles of undefined boundary" between the two countries. As a matter of fact, the boundary is 5,500 miles in length, of which 3,100 miles are land boundary and 2,400 miles are water boundary. The land boundary is marked by 5,483 monuments and a vista cut through the woods in all forest covered areas; the water boundary is identified by 2,530 reference marks.

Following the reductions in steamship rates, rail fares when issued in connection with ocean steamship passages will be cut 20% by both the Canadian National and Canadian Pacific railways. These fares will be in effect from May 15 to September 15, and tickets will be good for three months from date of sale, but not beyond November 15. The fares are good in coaches and tourist sleeping cars only. It is pointed out that passengers already booked for summer sailings will be given the opportunity to take advantage of the cut in rail fares. This will particularly affect the large number who plan to attend the Annual Educational Tours, the Glasgow Reunion in Scotland, and the Eucharistic Congress in Dublin, Ireland.

May the 14th issue of the Victoria Daily Times contains reference to Mrs. L. E. Drake, who is conducting a kitchen and baking plant at 1015 Yates Street, Victoria. In part the comment is as follows: "The opening of the central plant of Mrs. Drake's bakery chain of stores focuses attention on a woman's courageous and untiring career in the field of business. Five years ago, Mrs. A. Drake opened a rather humble bakery shop at the corner of Gorge and Tillikum roads. Today Mrs. Drake supervises a group of seven retail stores and one of the largest and most modern baking plants in the city, equipped with ovens capable of baking 750 loaves of bread at a time. This outstanding success in a sphere of activity usually dominated by men, Mrs. Drake ascribes to her early recognition of the fact that the public will always buy where quality products are in alliance with a service prompt, courteous and efficient. That the public appreciated the Drake business policy was quickly evidenced in the rapid growth of the business. Within a year and a half, Mrs. Drake was encouraged by the steady increase of business to open another store, and a year later still another. Then followed four more. Mrs. Drake formerly resided at Bellevue.

A couple of detectives down at Spokane the other day made some deductions that would have been a credit to either Sherlock Holmes or Dr. Watson. It appears there was a young couple living at a hotel and they claimed to have been married three years. Now, what aroused the suspicion of the detectives was that the "husband" appeared too gallant towards his "wife" for a couple that had been married for that length of time. When the officers arrived he began to aid his "wife" in putting on her shoes and seemed greatly concerned over her comfort. The officers, who no doubt were themselves married, became suspicious over these minute and exacting attentions. Investigated and found the couple not married. The man in attempting to be natural overplayed his part. He should have known that after being married three years, the wife is always left to herself to put on her shoes as best she can.—Ex.

FOREST DESTRUCTION IN ALBERTA SERIOUS

Considered from the standpoint of destruction of forest resources, the fire season of 1931, reports the Alberta Department of Lands and Mines, was probably the most disastrous on record. Weather conditions prevailing during the winter of 1930-31 were such that fires started readily and burnt into the ground, thus providing a start for destructive fires in the spring. On the forests of the east slope of the Rocky Mountains it was necessary to fight fires on several occasions during the winter.

As a result of winter conditions and of the weather and ground conditions in the spring, whereby fires spread rapidly, fires set for the purpose of clearing land and fires from other causes, assumed dangerous proportions and resulted in an enormous loss of forest resources and of private property. In addition the productivity of the soil was greatly damaged.

An examination of fire causes, state officials in charge of forest preservation, leaves no doubt as to the responsibility of individuals and indicates that little or no thought was given to the results. In many instances the danger to life and to the destruction of public and private property was entirely overlooked.

Improvements on neighboring lands were destroyed with no thought of the importance of individual welfare in the success of the community. In order to clear a comparatively small area, fires were indiscriminately set which destroyed large areas of important forest cover, which areas in a great many instances would at a later date contribute in no small way to the welfare of the individual and the community.

Settlers' fires dealt with by the forest reserve numbered 136, being 21.86% of the total fires dealt with.

The statement of the department concludes: "Campers, which includes all forest travellers, contributed to the destruction in no small way. Carelessness, laziness and ignorance no doubt explains why 147 fires are shown to have originated with campers. It is difficult to understand why people who go to the forest for recreation, or who obtain their livelihood from the forest, should be guilty of such carelessness. In the province of Alberta are found conditions more favorable to outdoor recreation than in many countries. There is an abundance of game birds, fish and big game. These, however, cannot exist if forest destruction continues at the rate of 1931."

PENALIZING THRIFT

All systems of taxation, past or present, have put a premium on laziness and lack of thrift and have piled a burden upon the shoulders of the thrifty, hard working citizen, who is building up the country. Two men may own properties of equal value; one improves his and makes it more valuable, thus adding to the value of adjacent properties. What is the result? The thrifty citizen is heavily taxed for the improvements made while the unthrifty one is left off with a light tax. Two men start out with equal chances of success; one begins early in life to put by a little for his old age, and the support of those dependent upon him; the other spends as he goes, using up all his earnings, and when both are past earning the thrifty one has to help pay the old age pension for the unthrifty one.—High River Times.

They had had a talk about the organs of the body, and the teacher suspected that Jimmy had not been paying attention.

"Name all organs of the body," he said, pointing to the inattentive boy. "The teeth," replied Jimmy. "And what kind of an organ are they?" asked the teacher. "A graked organ," was the reply.

RETAIN BEER PARLORS

Are the beer parlors of Alberta hotels dens of vice and sinks of iniquity and should they be done away with as an evil and unnecessary thing and the sale of beer placed in the hands of the government? This is a matter which the people of Alberta will be asked to vote on within the next year or two. The Prohibition League wants the beer parlors done away with and have requested a provincial plebiscite on the question. The provincial government postponed the holding of the vote on the grounds of the need of economy. But eventually a vote will be held.

The Herald believes the beer parlors should not be eliminated. One principal reason for taking the attitude is that an individual is permitted to purchase a drink of beer cheaply whenever he so desires, most beer parlors are decently operated, the country hotels need the revenue from this source in order to operate respectable hosteleries and even if these hotels operate on a very narrow margin of profit. Take away their beer licenses and you rule seventy-five percent of the hotels of the province. The ones in the towns and villages suffer most and these are the places which badly need reasonable good hotel accommodation.

If the present-day beer parlor were one tenth as bad as the bar of the olden days, The Herald would support them for a minute. But they are infinitely preferable to the so-called "prohibition act" which was a force in this province some ten years ago and which was a joke and a crime-breeder if there ever was one. Journey throughout the towns and villages of Southern Alberta and you will find most of them have a very good hotel. Most of the hotel-keepers try to run their beer parlors rigidly, in accordance with the law. Those that don't are the ones that furnish ammunition against beer parlors and we think every conscientious hotel keeper should make it a point to see that the small fraction who disregard the law are punished severely. Personally, we would regret to see the towns and villages have to put up with the class of hotel accommodation which the abolishing of beer parlors would bring.—Hanna Herald.

GET RELIEF; DISQUALIFIED

Through doing road relief work a number of municipal councillors throughout the province, though chiefly in the southern part, in the past year have disqualified themselves for municipal office, according to legal records.

Several cases are already on record where information has been laid and municipal councillors disqualified. Under the Municipal Act, no one earning relief from the municipality shall be qualified to hold office. In the past year, many councillors have earned in road relief programme. Whether or not it was a case of working off a local grudge against a councillor, the fact appears in the record that a number of persons have laid information under the act, which led to disqualification, and in some cases the imposition of fines.

Information from authoritative quarters Wednesday indicated that it was likely that a great many municipal councillors in southern Saskatchewan were open to action under this clause of the act.—Ex.

WHISKEY IMPORTS

DROP $5,805,463

Ottawa, May 7.—A large decrease in the importation of whiskey into Canada during the last fiscal year is reported in a trade summary issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics today.

During the fiscal year of 1931-32 the whiskey imports were valued at $15,673,064. This compared with $21,478,527 the year before.

The total importation of alcoholic beverages in 1931-32 was $25,929,887, just about the price of a meal ticket. That's really terrible!

WHO GETS TOURIST DOLLAR?

Four hundred million dollars seems a lot of money, but the map and chart men at Ottawa tell us that gas-gauge men, accessory dealers and service station proprietors have received this sum as their share of tourist business in Canada since 1920. The Statistical Bureau was able to show that the expenditure by tourists in Canada ranged from $85,734,000 in 1920 to $250,776,000 in 1931. By the simple expedient of asking questions, the Association has determined how the tourist dollar is divided, and it seems fairly definite that 20 cents goes for gasoline, garaging and accessories which, in the 11 years since 1920, would amount to the aforementioned $400,000,000.

The destination of the remainder of the tourist dollar was also calculated. For hotel and other types of accommodation, 20 cents is also spent; retail stores get 25 cents; restaurants 21 cents; confectionaries 6 cents; and theatres and places of amusement 8 cents.

There is no official Canadian estimate of how much the summer tourists will bring this year, but the American Automobile Association estimates it at $285,000,000.

THE TRUE WORTH OF A SMILE

Nothing on earth can smile but man. Gems may flash reflected light, but what is a diamond flash compared to an eye flash and a mirth flash? Jewels cannot smile; this is a charm that even they cannot claim. It is the prerogative of man; it is the color which love wears; and cheerfulness and joy—these three, it is the light in the windows of the eye by which the heart signifies it; a home, waiting. A face that cannot smile is like a bud that cannot blossom, and dries up on the stalk. Laughter is day, and sobriety is night, and smile is the twilight that grows gently between both—more enticing than either.—Henry Ward Beecher.

GANGWAY FOR MAYOR WEBB

Mayor Webb has broken into print again, in fact, in the city, which has produced a Woodsword, a Heap, and Webb, he has proposed a novice plan to put the newspapers, and all associated with them, out of business or five years. The fighting Mayor of the Gateway City knows his publicity onions and knows how to crash the gates of metropolitan journalism. But, then in his latest outburst, he is y no means original, as every newspaper man (proprietors, editors, reporters) know that people, since they arrived out the news on blocks of gold, have stated that the newspapers did not tell the truth, or suppressed the truth. Such readers have always existed, and will always exist, as long as there are newspapers or other periodicals passing on the news to all who might read. Winnipeg has to monopoly on such people, as they live in every city, town, hamlet and countryside.—Drumheller Review.

BACK SEAT DRIVERS ORGANIZE

If the Institute of Women Drivers in Detroit spreads to this country, the gentler sex in Canada will be able to take an official course in both front seat and back seat driving. The Institute, which has the sponsorship of safety organization, declares that there is more to back seat driving than nagging. The educated back seat driver is a sort of alarm clock, often arousing a sleepy driver, or calling timely attention to violation of rules of safety.

Six hundred passengers abandoned the French steamer George Phillip five miles from Cape Guardafui in the Gulf of Aden, when the vessel was discovered to be on fire. At least one hundred passengers are known to have been burned to death and gone down with the ship, which burned to the water's edge, then sank. The steamer was most luxurious and was on her maiden voyage.

W. G. Chester Serves Order
Railway Conductors for Quarter Century

When W. G. (Billy) Chester, of Winnipeg, retired after twenty-five years service as general chairman of the Canadian Pacific section of the Order of Railway Conductors, something of the character that had won him the esteem of not only the men for whom he acted as chief spokesman, but of the company with which he negotiated was revealed by Grant Hall, senior vice-president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, when he said:

"I have been associated with Mr. Chester for many years. Never once has he broken his word. We often differed in our views, but I always knew that when he told me something, he at least was sincerely convinced that it was right."

W. G. CHESTER

Speak to the conductors whom he represented so well for a quarter of a century and one learns that "Billy" Chester was "a square shooter," that which in the ranks of his kind there is no prouder title. Chester is sparing of words and always has been. Throughout his career as head of his order he has maintained the balance of a keen loyalty both to his men and to the Canadian Pacific Railway, with a realization that discipline was as important for the protection of the former as the latter. He knew how to be firm when what he thought were the rights of his men were at stake, without creating ill-feeling in the minds of company officials with whom he might be negotiating.

This is what Chester himself has to say of these relationships: "My relations with the members of the organization and with the general officers of the company have been most friendly and satisfactory and the boys on the road have always given me a fair break. I have had the same treatment from the company's officials. I have tried to reciprocate."

Mr. Chester began railroading way back in 1881, and had 25 years with the Company before entering the service of his Order.

"Can anyone tell me how meanness is made?" asked the school teacher.

"Yes, Miss, I can," said Tony. "First you take a very long hole and then you wrap some dough around it."

Exports of Canadian wheat during the month of March totalled 9,920,634 bushels, of which only 71,288 bushels were routed through United States Atlantic seaboard ports.

Canada's butter exports to the British Isles and other countries totalled 10,680,000 pounds in 1931, as compared with only 1,130,400 pounds in 1930.

Canada's bread and bakery products industry showed production to a value of $74,594,494 during 1930, through 2,698 establishments of which 1,071 are located in Ontario and 868 in Quebec.

March was the year's best month, to date, for iron production in Canada, with a total of 17,989 tons, at a rate of 580 tons per day, as compared with 362 tons per day in February and 332 in January.

W. G. Chester, dean of Canadian railroad veterans, has just retired, in Winnipeg, after 25 years in the service of the Canadian Pacific Railway and another 25 with the Brotherhood of Railway Conductors.

The 1931 census shows 728,244 occupied farms in Canada, or 17,154 more than were shown when the count was taken in 1921. Quebec, Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia are responsible for the increase, with the last-named in the lead.

Navigation opened in Montreal on April 18, with the Canadian Pacific freighter Beaverburn, the first trans-Atlantic ship in port. Her master Captain E. Landy, receiving the gold-headed cane, presented annually by the Harbor Commissioners, for this exploit.

Passenger honors in the trans-Atlantic service also fell to the Canadian Pacific, when the liner Montclair docked on the afternoon of Tuesday, April 19, as the first passenger ship to arrive in Montreal. Thus the C. P. R. claims double honors for the 1932 season.

Liverpool witnessed an unique event on April 5, when 760 British boys and girls disembarked from the Canadian Pacific liner Montclair, after a special cruise in the Mediterranean. A great London daily newspaper has offered prizes for the best essays written on the trip.

Some weird stories have been told of feline sagacity, but the open record would appear to be held by a Siamese cat, which "stowed away" on the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Britain, when she left England to go to New York to begin her world cruise last winter. Pussy finally deigned to show herself when the ship was half-way through her long trip. The Empress got a rousing welcome in New York when her trip was over, and the much-travelled cat was delivered to its owner, in the Southern States. (337)

"Elna worry yersel," said Sandy, "you're no' gaunnae start noo!"

Little Jackie went to church with his mother's guest. When the usher began to take the collection, Jackie noticed that the guest was not prepared. He whispered, "Where's your penny?" "I don't bring one," Time was short, matter urgent, but Jackie decided, accordingly. Trusting his penny into his lady's hand, he whispered, "Here, take mine! I'll pay for you and I'll get under the seat."—Pittsburgh Sun

A man who had waited patiently in the post office could not attract the attention of either of the girls behind the counter.

"The evening cloak," explained one of the girls to her companions, "was a real thing designed in gorgeous brocade, with fox fur and wide pinstripe sleeves."

At this point the long-suffering customer broke in with: "I wonder if you could provide me with a neat red stamp with a dinky perforated hem the tout ensemble treated on the reverse side with gum arabic?—Some thing for about two cents?"

A WEEK IN FAIRYLAND

Nobody ever entirely loses that childhood illusion of a land which surpasses in loveliness, surprises and happiness anything that the mind is capable of envisaging; the land of make-believe, which ever one hopes may someday become a reality. It is not too much to say that the glorious Rockies, Canada's great holiday territory, renowned throughout the world, are as close to this elusive dreamland as anything that mortal man is likely to discover. Special arrangements for the coming season now bring a week in this modern fairyland well within the reach of the average traveller, with Banff and Lake Louise, on the main line of the Canadian Pacific Railway, as base-points and a wide range of every varying scenery and cosy bungalow camps beyond. The "sit-and-shut-the-door" has already become a slogan among those planning their summer vacation, embracing as it does, not only the two famous hotels at Banff and Lake Louise, but such well known points of interest and beauty as Johnston Canyon, Moraine Lake and the famous Valley of the Ten Peaks; the Lakes in the Clouds; the Plain of the Six Glaciers; the Great Divide; Wapta Lake-Banff

Camp; Yoho Valley and Bungalow Camp; Takakkaw Falls; the historic Kicking Horse; Mount Stephen; Emerald Lake and the western of the great mountains near Field, B.C. Easily reached from all points by Canadian Pacific Railway, main line points are linked with the camps in the mountains by the Brewster Transport Company, past masters in comfort and convenience for the traveller in the valleys and names of the mighty Rockies. Automobile drives, trail rides and hikes combine with bright entertainment in the evenings to make the holiday something to be remembered for a lifetime.

Here and There

Practically an egg a day is eaten by every man, woman and child in Canada. The average per capita yearly consumption of eggs in the Dominion is 240, the highest of any country, according to an official computation.

Canada's gold production in 1933 reached the new high total of 2,692,770 ounces valued at $48,437,909. This is 27.6 per cent above the 1930 production. Of this total the province of Ontario accounted for 2,079,762 ounces valued at $32,992,283.

New Brunswick can now claim the rare distinction of producing a white squirrel. The animal was caught by Jack Peeling of Fredericton who trapped it near the village of Lincoln. It has been bought by the government and will be mounted and placed on exhibition.

Hon. Cairine Wilson, Canada's only woman Senator, arrived recently at Quebec on board the Empress of Australia, from a trip through Europe. While in London she visited the House of Lords, but could not make comparisons with the Senate since the House was not in session.

Western plains have been given a boost by the rains of the last days of April and farmers of the prairie provinces are cheered by fine seeding conditions and good prospects of crop success. According to information summarized by the Canadian Pacific agricultural department report:

Following the announcement of reduced ocean rates, Canadian Pacific ships on the Atlantic, one of the largest parties ever to leave Toronto at this time of year for the Old Country sailed recently aboard the Duchess of York. There were 275 in the party drawn from all parts of eastern Ontario but mostly from Toronto.

The first cases of roses and shrubs from France for Grand Pre Park, Nova Scotia, arrived recently. They are from Chateaufort, France, the gift of the mayor of that town. Chateaufort is one of the places in France where the exiled Acadians settled after the Grand Pre expulsion.

Four stretches of New Brunswick trout and salmon waters were sold at the Department of Lands and Mines recently for prices totalling $8,850. These waters for a term of 10 years are on the Restigouche, Kedgwick, Matapeia and Big Seville Rivers and prices paid are the annual rental charges.

Daylight-saving time, commencing in Quebec and Ontario provinces May 1, occasioned little confusion in the British Empire, as travellers have nowadays learned that the railways remain on standard time and govern themselves accordingly. The railway announced a number of train alterations prior to the introduction of daylight saving.

From little Norfolk Island in the South Pacific, one of the smallest units in the British Empire, an excellent sample of beans for exhibition at the World's Grain Exhibition and Conference to be held at Regina July 1933, has just arrived. Norfolk Island is the scene of the punishment of the mutineers of the "Bounty" in 1856 but is long since free from any penal to a prosperous settlement. (341)

COWLEY HAPPENINGS

On Friday night, May 13th, a whist drive and dance was held at the Masonic Hall. The early part of the evening was taken up at whist, when Mrs. I. Christie won ladies' first prize, Mrs. E. Duffield second; Charles Field, gent's first, and Archie Moe, second. Consolations were awarded to Miss Mary Kaye and C. J. Bundy. Mrs. Christie, Mrs. Duffield, Mrs. Bradshaw and Mrs. G. Porter were joint hostesses for the evening. After an appetizing luncheon was enjoyed from neatly laid tables, a lively dance took place, which lasted into the small hours. Many commented on the snappy music furnished by Angus Manfort and Harry Wright, of the Porcupine Hills district. It is interesting to note that both of these young men are natural-born musicians. They played the piano, accordion and banjo-mandolin.

Miss Nellie McWilliams spent the week end in Lethbridge.

Mrs. C. J. Bundy is visiting at Erickson, B.C., for a few days.

Mrs. S. Tustian has returned from an extended visit with her son Elwin and family at Shackleton, Saskatchewan.

Mrs. James Leigh and Mr. Joe Wilson were recent visitors to Cranbrook.

M. A. Murphy, Archie Swart and Malcolm McMillan attended the funeral of the late Donald Thomson, K. C., which was held at Pincher Creek on Friday afternoon.

Several old friends and acquaintances of the late Mr. A. H. Lynch-Staunton attended his funeral, held in Pincher Creek on Saturday forenoon.

A Mothers' Day service was held in the United Church on Sunday afternoon, when Rev. John Wood, of Bellevue, delivered an able discourse to an earnest congregation. Special music was prepared for this service.

The Cowley baseball team played the Tod Creek team on their home ground on Sunday afternoon, resulting in a score of 18-1 in favor of Tod Creek. Another game was played the same afternoon near the home of James Smyth, between the Porcupines and River Rats, with the former emerging winners to the tune of 13-2.

After spending several weeks in Calgary, Miss Mildred Easterbrook has returned.

Dr. Donald died at his home here on Sunday night at the advanced age of seventy-two. Although falling in health for several months, when the end came he suffered only a short illness.

The funeral of Dr. James Donald, M.D., C.M., physician and surgeon, took place on Tuesday afternoon from the Anglican church to the Cowley cemetery, where interment was made. Rev. Mr. Jeffcott, of Pincher Creek, performed the last sad rites. Dr. Donald was born in Glasgow, Scotland, in the year 1860, was educated at Glasgow high school and graduated from Glasgow University in 1881 at the age of twenty-one. He practiced in partnership with his father in Glasgow, later removing to England, where he held several important medical appointments.

On the outbreak of the Boer war, October, 1899, he was appointed chief medical officer at Southampton, which position he held until the close of the war. In 1900 he came to Canada, settling in Lundbrook in 1907 as a mine doctor, where he remained until 1915. Then, at the age of fifty-five, he again offered his services to his country and was appointed medical officer to the Eaton Machine Gun Battery, and on return to Canada in 1918 he opened practice in Cowley, where he remained until the time of his death, Sunday last. Besides a wide circle of friends, he leaves to mourn his loss his devoted wife, to whom he was married forty-nine years ago; two daughters, Mrs. A. Brockwell and Mrs. W. Fortier, both of Cowley; and one son, Geoffrey; four grandchildren and one great-grandchild; also two sisters in England. Dr. Donald will be greatly missed, and to all who knew him a fitting epitaph would be: "An unassuming Christian, gentleman." Among those who gave floral tributes were: The Family, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Elton, Mr. and Mrs. T. Heap, Mrs. I. Christie, W. Mackay and Jack O'Connell, E. W. Goad, Mr. and Mrs. Leigh and Verdon, H. C. Trist, Mr. and Mrs. George Porter, Mr. and Mrs. R. Littleton, Ladies' Guild, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Morrison and Jean, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Tustian, Women's Institute, Lemire Brothers, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Cowin, Mr. and Mrs. H. Bouthillier, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Tustian, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Bundy and family, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Swart, Misses Swart and family, and others.

Mrs. Florence Dionne died on Tuesday, May 17th, in the Coleman hospital, following operation for appendicitis. She was born and raised to womanhood in the Cowley district. She was but twenty years of age.

Miss Martin's class sang several selections. Vocal selections were rendered by Miss Audrey Martin and Mrs. E. Davies. A recitation by Miss Peggy Cole was well received. This guests sat to a delicious cold supper. Games were afterwards indulged in, followed by dancing, music being supplied by Norman Miller and Harry Stobbs.

A well attended meeting of the committee of the Boy Scouts and Wolf Cubs was held last week. Joe Norton occupied the chair. The district committee's recommendation to hold a camp at Lee Lake in July was approved. Donald Grant presented a very favorable statement of the finances, and it was agreed to purchase certain equipment for the use of the Scouts and Cubs. The Cubs will also camp some time in June or July.

Miss Beatrice Clarke, who has been staying with Mrs. J. Mackie, returned to her home in Fernie on Sunday.

A meeting of the Tennis Club was held at the club house on Friday. Arrangements were made to re-surface and roll the courts.

The Blairmore Floaters were defeated to the tune of 9-3 by the local softballers at a game here Wednesday evening.

Mr. T. Burnett was a visitor to Hillcrest last week.

Nick Squarek is making fast recovery from injuries he sustained in the mine several weeks ago.

F. Worobec has completed his house in Peaceful Valley.

Bellevue Grade VI softballers were defeated by the local Grade VI here on Saturday by 20 to 7.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Blackie, of Fernie, were visitors in town over the week end. Mrs. S. Taber returned here with them, after a short stay in Fernie.

The dance held in the Union hall, under auspices of the local Welsh Society, was a great success. The proceeds of the evening were very kindly donated to the local Boy Scouts fund.

Angus Grant is making fast recovery from an injury to his foot sustained several weeks ago.

Harold Henderson has completed the painting of his house and improvements to his garden.

Miss Jessie Colinson returned to Edmonton last week.

The Hillcrest road is practically finished and has now the best surface in the Pass.

Fred Gregory and family are leaving shortly for a three-months visit to Russia. Alex. Lazarenko will manage the hotel during Fred's absence.

Dr. G. W. Kerby, principal of Mount Royal College, Calgary, was a visitor at the Hillcrest school on Tuesday.

Fumagalli Brothers are showing the new Ford V-8.

R. T. Rodd, minister of fisheries, and J. H. Holmes, warden, were visitors here on Monday and discussed various matters with the local association in connection with game and fish propagation, preservation, etc. Philip McNeil, chairman, heartily thanked the visitors for their presence, and impressed upon them the necessity of more stringent surveillance of our creeks, both in and out of the fishing season.

BELLEVUE HAPPENINGS

Mrs. F. Wolstenholme entertained a number of friends at bridge on Thursday evening.

Mr. F. J. Turner is seriously ill at her home here.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Hampton were Calgary visitors for the week end.

Miss Gertrude May spent the week end here, the guest of Miss Helen Emmerson.

The Bellevue Boy Scout council attended the district meeting at Blairmore on Monday night.

Misses Frances and Kathleen Costick were joint hostesses at a surprise miscellaneous shower given for Miss Iris Ellison at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Costick. Cards were enjoyed the early part of the evening. Whist honors were won by Miss Marie Lamey, first, and Miss Nancy McLean, consolation. After a dainty luncheon, Mrs. Costick presented the bride-elect with a large basket of beautiful gifts.

The fiery cross, emblem of the Ku

Klux Klan, was burnt on Tuesday night about 10.30. The cross was erected on the hillside toward the Connelly lake.

At a meeting held in the Union building, the Women's Auxiliary of the Workers' Unity League was organized.

A mass meeting of the miners was held on the football field on Tuesday afternoon. John Stokalak and several speakers were heard.

HILLCREST FISH AND GAME PROTECTIVE ASSOCIATION

A very enjoyable and instructive evening was spent by the committee guiding the destinies of the Hillcrest Fish and Game Protective Association on Monday evening, when Mr. R. T. Rodd, director of fisheries for the province, visited Hillcrest for the purpose of discussing with the committee several matters of mutual interest. Mr. Rodd contributed a great deal of useful and interesting information, and discussed at length all points as they were raised. In return he received much information regarding local fishery, game and forest conditions and the attitude of sportsmen in the Crows' Nest Pass towards some regulations which might receive further attention.

Naturally enough, the first point taken up was the question of more thoroughly patrolling the fishing waters in the south-western portion of the province. As is well known to all local sportsmen, never a fishing season approaches but reports are heard of unsportsmanlike individuals anticipating the opening date by a few days or weeks. The department is determined to stop this poaching, and this year, by means of additional guardians and secret patrols, it is hoped that offenders will be apprehended and dealt with according to their deserts. Another point raised in this connection was that of people catching large quantities of fish to preserve for winter use; it is expected this year that some such people will learn (at some cost to themselves) that fish in the rivers are primarily for sport instead of food.

The next question discussed was that of propagation. The director was informed of several creeks, now closed to fishing, which are useless for the breeding or planting of game fish, being full of nothing but bull or Dolly Varden trout. In view of suggestions made, it is probable that two or three such creeks will be thrown open, after all angles of the question have been thoroughly considered by the department.

The question of the department supplying fingerlings instead of fry for planting was next raised. It had been generally understood that the government had intended to enlarge its hatchery plants so that an adequate number of fingerlings could be supplied, but Mr. Rodd informed the gathering that this was not the case. The Dominion Government had recommended that associations, where possible, construct proper ponds under the supervision of engineers supplied by the government, and where these ponds were suitably constructed, fry would be supplied free of charge, provided the fingerlings raised were available for public purposes; the government would also supply a competent man to instruct associations how to proceed with the feeding and raising of the fry. It was pointed out that for the government itself to keep millions of fish until they were three or four inches long was at present out of the question, owing to the cost involved.

The regulations governing children were next discussed. Under the original provincial regulations children under twelve years of age, when accompanied by their parents, were not required to be in possession of a permit. The Hillcrest Fish and Game Association last year recommended to the department, both directly and through the Alberta Fish and Game Association, that this age limit be raised to sixteen, and that it be necessary for such children to be accompanied by their parents. Following this recommendation, the age limit was raised to sixteen, but with the same proviso. In reply to enquiries, Mr. Rodd stated that the matter had received very careful consideration, and had not yet been definitely settled; the department, however, took the view that some members of the child's family should purchase a permit and thus help to pay for the child's sport. To this view no exception was taken, and it was eventually suggested that Mr. Rodd might recommend to his department the possibility of amending the regulation in question to allow children under sixteen years of age, fishing without official permits, provided they carried (or could show) some proof that a parent was in possession of a permit. This Mr. Rodd agreed to do, and it is possible that an amendment may be made to the regulations before the 1932 season opens.

A suggestion was offered that the daily limit might very well be reduced from 20 to 15, but no definite action was taken in this connection.

The question of reciprocity between Alberta and British Columbia, whereby fishing licences issued in one province would be recognized in the other, was next discussed. Mr. Rodd informed the meeting that the question of having a uniform licence fee for all provinces in the Dominion had been raised from time to time, but no headway had been made. He recommended that a matter of this kind could be better dealt with by the associations in the different provinces getting together, deciding what they wanted, and making representations to their respective governments.

While Mr. Rodd is not connected with the Game Branch, the following items were mentioned, and he was asked to bring them to the attention of the proper officials, viz. the fact that in south-western Alberta, south of the C.P.R. Crows' Nest line, elk have increased under protection to such an extent that they have practically driven all deer away; and secondly, that much illegal shooting, both of birds and big game, is rumored to take place just prior to the opening of each season. Mr. Rodd stated he would convey to the Game Commissioner the committee's opinion that an open season for elk should be declared in the district mentioned, and also that more paid game guardians are very much needed in this locality. The committee was informed, however, that shortage of game guardians is a common complaint from associations all over the province.

To reduce the danger of forest fires, the Association submitted to the Provincial Association a resolution to the effect that concrete fireplaces should be erected at suitable points near to rangers' stations, and that no persons be allowed to light fires at other places in the reserves without obtaining a written permit from the ranger in charge. Mr. Rodd was heartily in favor of this suggestion, and promised to take the matter up on his return to Edmonton. It was felt that by instituting such a permit system the ranger would have an opportunity of impressing upon visitors the extreme importance of being careful with fires, more so than with only the system of camping permits now in force.

At the conclusion of the meeting a hearty vote of thanks was extended to Mr. Rodd for his visit and the information and assistance he had given. Arrangements are being made to distribute more fry than ever this year, and from all reports it is understood that fishing in the province generally is improving, although at times certain waters may be depleted.

The visit was a most successful one in every way, the director of fisheries leaving Hillcrest convinced that the local association is doing everything possible to co-operate with his department, and the members of the association realizing that the department is willing at all times to co-operate with local associations and give careful consideration to any recommendation submitted.

Those present at the meeting included Mr. G. E. Cruickshank, M.L.A., Mr. J. H. Holmes, Fishery Guardian, and the Committee: Messrs. McNeil, Warriner, Silcocks, White and Haggerty.

The annual meeting of the Association will be held in the Community Hall at Hillcrest, on Friday, June 3, when a full report of the past season's activities will be submitted and the Committee for the ensuing season elected.

Lowest Price in Ten Years

The Past, The Present and The Future.

Footstave written: "The past I leave behind; men of affairs have stated the same thing; warying youth promising to reform have made such declarations; all of us have been exhorted to "let the dead past bury its dead."

But can the past ever be left wholly behind? Does it not always intrude into the present and even project itself into the future? Is not the present made up largely of the accumulated experiences of the past, and will not the future be moulded in the experience of today? All history proves that this is so.

Furthermore, even if it were possible to leave the past behind, to wipe the whole slate clean and begin all over again as if what has gone before had never been, would it be a wise course of action? In some respects, perhaps, yes; in other respects most decidedly, no.

The past, it is true, is now only of value for the experiences it has provided, for the lessons it has taught, for the accumulations of wisdom it has thus stored up for our guidance, for the advances that have been made, and are now ours, in the onward and upward march of the race, since prehistoric days. And it is because of these gains that it would be most unwise to completely blot out the past, even if we could.

Even the mistakes, the errors, the foolishness, the sins of the past should not be forgotten; they, too, have their value. They are the signposts along the road of the present, stretching on into the future, to warn us of dangers, to point out what to avoid.

But the past and its experiences, insofar as they resulted in discouragements and disappointments, weakening our wills, breaking our courage, lessening our initiative and energies, should be relegated to the limbo of the forgotten. They have no value, and constitute nothing but hampering drags upon and throughout the days and years to come. They may well be wholly erased from our memories; left to the past to be forever buried and in it.

And the present? It is our only opportunity. We may have a future, and we may not; no one can tell. But we have the present; it is now ours to use or abuse. And we have the past to guide us in the manner and method of its use. And the future, if we are accorded one, will largely be what we make it by the use, or abuse, we make of the present.

Down through the ages our customs of life, our daily habits, our modes of thought and action, our institutions of government, our community existence, even our physical beings, have been developing and moulded to the forms of today. Man has profited by the lessons and experiences of the past, and he must continue in the present to profit, to learn, and to apply his learning to the problems of the present if his own future, and the future of his children and of the race, is to be better and brighter than is the present.

From the dark ages to the present, mankind and the world in which we live has progressed. At different stages progress has been achieved by great upheavals, by revolution, but it has been through the less spectacular peaceful processes of evolution that the greatest upward strides have been made, those having the most far-reaching, most beneficial and lasting results for the betterment of all. This very fact, these experiences out of the past, have a lesson for the world of mankind today.

We have been suffering from a so-called business and economic depression. Times have been difficult and discouraging. Men and women in all countries and in all walks of life have been, and many still are, discouraged. Some are desperate, and talk revolution. But the past, if we will heed its warnings, teaches us that by revolution they suffered the most, whatever may have been the ultimately beneficial reforms which followed, while it has been by and through evolution that the greatest gains and blessings to the masses of the world's inhabitants have been secured.

In times like the present, men's views become distorted and their thinking unsound. This is but natural; it is, indeed, human nature. They are prepared to go to extremes in the present without counting the cost of what the future will call upon them and their descendants to pay for the mistakes they may thereby make.

The present, therefore, is not a time for men to say: "The past I leave behind," except in the sense that they leave the errors and follies and unadvised thinking of the past out of their reckoning and plans for the present and future. Rather it is a time to remember and closely study the past, the experiences of the past, and the results which flowed from those experiences, with a view and a determination to profit thereby, rejecting what time and experience has proven to be bad, and incorporating, extending, strengthening those ideas and principles which have revealed their soundness into the warp and woof of the future.

A Really New Idea

Woman Eighty-Two, Has Plan To Salvage Old Age

Dr. Lillian Jane Martin, consulting psychologist of San Francisco, who has spent more than half a century as an educator and will celebrate her eighty-second birthday in July, arrived at New York the other day fresh and active after driving her own car across the continent and lecturing in the large cities along the way. "I am here," she announced, "to present the whole matter of salvaging old age. For example, the weakness of being too slow. Many people start starting life when the tempo of society was much slower than it is today. And so they must be speeded up to modern conditions. Both physical and mental exercises can be given them up to the speed of whatever industry they are in."

Her Heart Was So Bad Couldn't Do Housework

Mrs. S. Dragoman, R.R. 2, Midland, Ont., writes:—"I had been troubled with heart trouble for many years. My heart would beat so fast I could hardly breathe, and I had headaches, and dizziness and faint spells. I couldn't get my housework done I was so weak. I took three boxes of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and felt much better, and now I would not be without them in the house."

A Promising Sign

Many New Manufacturing Industries Are Starting In Britain

Students of the British industrial situation are pointing out that the returns from the Patent Office indicate an increased tendency to protect in Great Britain the production of commodities which heretofore have been largely supplied from foreign countries.

It is of great interest to note, in this connection, that there have been many applications for patents for silk manufacture, which is largely controlled by France; for laundry machines, up to now regarded as an exclusive American monopoly; and for dye and alloy manufactures, of which Germany has been the principal originator in the past.

In all these varying fields, new industries have sprung up in the Old Country, and so far as dyes and alloys are concerned, the manufacture is now predominantly British, while silks and other products are being manufactured in Britain in ever-increasing volume. At a time when business is supposed to be going to the bow-woes, surely this is a promising sign.

Where Butter Is Dear

Russian Housewives Have To Pay $3.60 Per Pound

Long queues of women are forming daily in Moscow again because of the serious shortage of butter, milk, eggs and sugar. After a year in which these lines of waiting housewives had been almost eliminated, they have been brought back to the doors of the so-called commercial shops by the thousands. The commercial shops are government-owned, but are distinct from the ordinary rationed government shops, from which dairy products have virtually disappeared. The commercial shops sell goods at much higher prices and without food books. Butter is sold at about 7.29 rubles (nominally $3.60) a pound and despite the price, there is usually a race to the shops as soon as news of receipt of new supplies is circulated.

Acids In Stomach Cause Indigestion

Create Sourness, Gas and Pain. How To Treat.

Medical authorities state that nearly 90 per cent of the cases of indigestion, trouble, indigestion, sourness, burning, flatulence, gas, and pain, are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach. The acid is secreted by the stomach glands, and is necessary for the digestion of food. If it is secreted in excess, it causes indigestion, sourness, gas, and pain. Wheat Export

Prospects Are Seen For A Better Export Movement In Near Future

Prospects of a better export movement of wheat, especially after July, when southern hemisphere wheat is exhausted, are forecast in the monthly report of the statistical department of the Board of Grain Commissioners on the movement of western Canadian crops in April. Freight rates have dropped to low levels on the Great Lakes with little business offering. There has been a noticeable demand for rye of late.

Children thrive upon them and no matter what condition their worm-infested stomachs may be in, they will cure them as soon as the treatment begins.

No Wood Is Solid

The solidest and soundest kind of wood is not really solid at all. It is full of air—twenty to forty per cent of its total bulk consists of gases, trapped in the minute tubes and cell cavities that all wood is made of. This appears from the researches of Dr. D. T. MacDougal, of the Carnegie Institution of Washington, who reported them.

"I was very stout, and I have taken Kruschen Salts for 3 months, and have lost from 212 lbs. to 182 lbs. (age 40). I am a hearty eater, and have never died in any way. Also I have never felt ill effects whilst I have been taking Kruschen salts."—T. H. That is an instance of Kruschen succeeding without assistance. But if any fat person will be satisfied with a moderate diet, will take one half teaspoon of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water before breakfast every morning—they can lose fat in just the same way.

This is what Kruschen Salts does: it cleans out the impurities in your blood by keeping the bowels, kidneys and bladder in splendid working order, and fills you with a vigor and tireless energy you'd almost forgotten had existed—you get the needed exercise. As a result, instead of planting yourself in an easy chair every free moment and letting fatty fat accumulate, you feel an urge for activity that keeps you moving around doing the things you always wanted to do and needed to do to keep you in good condition.

New Thieving Plan

Scotland Yard Looking For Gang Robbing Letter Boxes

A gang specializing in a combination of thieving and forging are occupying the attention of Scotland Yard. In search of letters containing checks, they fish in public and private letter-boxes, using Ryparker as "bat" and in the evening waiting for post, or they have inside information or work at auspicious times, such as the first of the month.

Forgery of the purloined checks is a specialized job, which can be detected only by the use of ultra-violet rays and the aid of a handwriting expert. The gang's methods are so characteristically clever that they offer to Scotland Yard a ready means of identifying their handiwork.

If Edgar Wallace were still alive, a new book or play featuring these novel exploits might be expected in a few weeks—or even days.

Radio In Dummy Funnel

This Innovation Will Be Seen On New British Liner

A dummy funnel will be used to house the wireless equipment of the White Star liner "Georgic," which is rapidly nearing completion at Belfast. The aerial and direction finder both will be inside the giant funnel, and thus screened effectively from local electrical disturbances. The top of the funnel will be open, and the aerial fitted on the roof of a cabin inside, it will be possible to obtain uninterrupted wireless signals for direction finding. The screening will be so complete, in fact, that the usual source of electrical interference from the ship's motors will be unnecessary.

Like her sister ship the "Britannic," the "Georgic" will have two huge elliptical funnels, but as she is a motor vessel, only one is needed as an exhaust and ventilator.

"Where are you going with that box?" asked the officer. "Going to pay my taxes," replied Johnson. He opened the chest, took out 13,700 pennies and got a receipt for his $137 assessment.

Trapper Meets Tragic End

Perishes From Cold In Shack In Northern Woods As Result Of Accident

Solution of a five-month mystery and the end of a Royal Canadian Mounted Police search issued recently with the arrival at The Pas of a Mountie patrol under Constable W. Barret, bringing the body of Oscar Morrell, missing trapper, from one of his trapping shacks 34 miles east of Mile 374 on the Hudson Bay Railway line.

Morrell left Mile 374 on Christmas Eve last, planning to be gone two weeks on a hunting trip. It is believed while covering his trapline he accidentally discharged his rifle and blew off his right hand. Driving his team of dogs, he staggered through the snow to one of his trap-line shacks, where he made a rude and futile effort to stop the flow of blood from his injured arm. As he weakened rapidly he built up the fire in the shack to keep out the freezing winds, using chairs, part of his bed, and even his snow-shoes in his effort to keep warm.

When friends here became alarmed at his long absence, a detachment of Mounties set out to search for him, and broke into his shack to find his body in the grim setting of his lonely struggle against death. His body was brought to The Pas for identification and burial. He is believed to have lived in Winnipeg and Saskatoon before coming north to trap.

New R.C.M.P. Appointment

Inspector T. V. Sandys Wunack Named Successor To Inspector Joy

A member of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police for more than a score of years, Inspector T. V. Sandys Wunack, who is now stationed at Cranbrook, B.C., was announced recently by Major-General J. H. Macleod, Commissioner of the R.C.M.P. He succeeds Inspector A. H. Joy, famous Arctic officer, who died at Ottawa, April 29. The new inspector of the eastern Arctic will have his headquarters in Montreal.

Inspector Wunack will visit his northern posts this summer, leaving for the Arctic, July 9, aboard the Hudson's Bay Company vessel "Un-gava."

Isabella Horses Are Scarce

Special Breed Can Be Obtained Only In Germany

Isabella horses are being sought in Germany by Captain Hopkins, regarded as one of the best judges of horses in India, at the behest of a Maharajah. They are a special breed with brownish yellow coats and white manes and tails. They are wanted to draw the Maharajah's state coaches. Horses of this type used to be bred throughout Europe by various princes, the studs of the Kings of Hanover in Herrenhausen, being specially noted for them, but now so far as is known they are only bred by one private dealer in Germany.

Flivver Derails Freight Train

Knocks Eight Freight Cars Off The Track at Level Crossing

They tell of a mouse falling into a run having caused a crawling out crying for lions to fight.

Recently, at a level crossing near Gravenhurst, Ont., a "flivver" aswiped a Canadian National Railway freight train and derailed eight cars. It charged and screeched and died screaming, a total wreck, but in its death agonies it guarded its owner-driver, T. E. Callon, Orillia, and another passenger, William McEachern, both of whom escaped with minor bruises. None of the train crew was injured.

Considering Plans For Railroad Across Sahara

Low Building Cost Great Incentive To French Deputies

The depression which has cut-others and conflicting effects. From South America comes the report that it has led to the closing of the famous railroad over the Andes which links Argentina and Chile; from France dispatches relate that it has led to a definite and practical review of the project for a railroad across the Sahara. If in the one case decreased traffic has made further operation unprofitable, in the other reduced costs of building material and a plentiful supply of labor are advanced as reasons which make this an especially propitious time for construction.

The Sahara project is a gigantic undertaking which demands for its success the economic exploitation of a vast area of land which is now virtually useless. The cost of the railroad itself, entirely apart from the scheme for developing vast irrigation works in the Sahara to be fed by a canal from the Mediterranean, is put at $100,000,000. That an industrial group of French Deputies is even considering a Saharan railroad at a time like this is striking evidence that in France at least they apparently do not believe the world is coming to an end. We hope that if news of the closing of the two-mile-high Indian Pass, the Andes passes Paris, will not discourage these promoters of what would probably be the world's lowest and flattest railroad.

LIFELESS FORM OF LINDBERGH BABY IS FOUND

Trenton, N.J.—Two tremendous blows on the head ended the life of Charles A. Lindbergh, Jr., the official autopsy by Dr. Charles A. Mitchell, county physician, disclosed.

The autopsy showed that the skull had been fractured on the left side, the fracture extending from the top to just behind the left ear. The second blow was dealt on the right side of the head just back of the right ear, and left a hole one-half inch in diameter.

It was as if some adult person had held the baby tightly in his arms and deliberately hammered the head with the purpose of causing instant death.

The diagnosis was:

"The cause of death is a fractured skull, due to external violence."

Dr. Mitchell's report confirmed that decomposition of the body had progressed to the point where it could be surmised that the child had been killed almost immediately after the kidnapping, depending on climatic and other conditions that might have produced such results.

The autopsy also indicated that the body had not been disturbed, probably since it had been buried, although this point was not covered definitely.

Teeth, cranial and other bone formations were given to confirm the identification of the child, although the autopsy was purely technical and itself did not try to establish identity.

Dr. Mitchell said there was evidence of a hemorrhage on the inner surface of the left side of the skull at the point of fracture. This would indicate that the blow on the left side of the head might have been the one that actually caused death.

The scalp was so badly decomposed that it was impossible to find any contusions or hemorrhagic conditions external to the skull, Dr. Mitchell added. Thus it was impossible from a diagnostic point of view to aid the police in the hunt for the actual instrument of death.

The autopsy reports did not speculate as to blows and such, but left the diagnosis at "external violence."

Physicians usually pronounce such fractures, however, as due to blows delivered on the head rather than accidental fractures.

Tax Boost In Ireland

Steep Increases In Tariffs Proposed In De Valera Budget

Dublin, Irish Free State.—Steep increases in tariffs and income taxes were proposed in the first budget of the De Valera government, which was introduced in the dail eireann.

The budget provided for an duty on tea of four pence a pound and a package tax of two pence on each container holding any article of food or drink, or cosmetics or medical preparations packed for sale.

The income tax rate would be raised from three shillings and six pence to five shillings in the pound.

Drastic action was necessary to make both ends meet in the nation's finances because President De Valera's government faced a budgetary deficit of £5,800,000.

The budget provided for extending the entertainment tax to cover dancing, outdoor sports, horse racing and dog racing. It also set forth an increase of one shilling two pence a pound in the duty on tobacco.

An International Problem

Present Economic Crisis Is World-Wide and Too Deep-Seated For Individual Action

Quebec, Que.—Unemployment is an international problem and must receive international consideration, Tom Moore, president of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, said when he arrived here on the Canadian Pacific liner "Empress of Australia."

Mr. Moore was a Canadian labor delegate to the International Labor Conference at Geneva.

Unemployment formed the chief topic of discussion at the conference, Mr. Moore said, and delegates agreed that the present economic crisis is world-wide and too deep-seated for individual action.

Drama Of The Skies

Two Men Of Mooring Crew Lose Lives When Driftable Attempts To Land

Camp Kearney, Calif.—A tragic drama of the skies was written in an unsuccessful attempt of the world's largest driftship, the "U.S.S. Akron," to land here.

Two men of the mooring crew were dashed to death and a third, Bud Cowart, was carried two hours dangling on a 300-foot rope from the navy airship.

Ten thousand spectators saw the two fall as the driftable surged upward. Cowart swung precariously half a mile over their heads. Women screamed, men wept.

Then he was rescued, hauled into a hatch of the big ship. A message dropped from the big bag.

"Cowart OK," it read.

A vast sigh of relief went up.

The climax to the westward clung of the Akron, which left Lakehurst, N.J., on its first trans-continental trip, came during efforts to make an emergency mooring at Camp Kearney after an aerial voyage fraught with storms.

Several attempts to bring the great skyliner down had been made by a determined ground crew when upward currents suddenly caught the great ship.

Robert Edfall and Nigel Henton, both of the San Diego naval training station, and Cowart clung to the landing line, to the horror of the watching throng as the Akron surged upward. Edfall and Henton lost their grip and fell to death, but Cowart clung on.

Upward the great ship swept with Cowart dangling on the line 300 feet below the dirigible. A height of 2,000 feet was reached but Cowart maintained his precarious grip. Through bumpy air the Akron sailed, but Cowart clung on.

Minutes that seemed like hours to the gasping crowd below passed as the Akron cruised through the bumpy air, rocking up and down, with the plucky Cowart dragging along. Then it was noted the distance between Cowart and the Akron began slowly to diminish.

There was no winch on the rope. It was slow work hoisting Cowart up by hand. At last he was dragged through a cockpit.

No Wheat Bonus

Both Bushel and Acreage Bases Plans Are Rejected

Ottawa, Ont.—A bonus scheme for wheat, on both a bushel and acreage basis, was turned down definitely by the House of Commons. Without a recorded vote two motions were defeated, the first from Robert Gardiner, leader of the farm bloc, suggesting continuation of the five cent bounty on export wheat, and the second from Dr. Thomas Donnelly, Liberal, Willow Bunch, proposing a five cent bounty on a seed-acreage basis.

In discussing the question of wheat in its relation to the welfare of Canada and its importance to Canadian export trade, it must be remembered that the greatest proportion of wheat was produced in the prairie provinces, Mr. Gardiner declared. During the early part of the present century many people had been induced to go to western Canada by the great opportunities which were said to lie there in wheat-growing.

Progressive members had been long awaiting some declaration of policy from the government with regard to the wheat-growers. Mr. Gardiner realized that the members of the government were bearing tremendous responsibilities, and felt sympathy with them in the burden they were called upon to bear. But that fact did not relieve him from the responsibility of inquiring from the government what the policy was.

"We produce the best wheat in the world, and we are proud of it," Mr. Gardiner continued. But it cost about 75 cents a bushel to produce the No. 1 wheat on the basis of twenty bushels to the acre. The price level for No. 1 wheat at the head of the lakes was approximately 95 cents a bushel. Consequently every bushel grown meant a loss of seven cents. The wheat farmer could not keep on very long with such prices.

Price of commodities which the farmer used were somewhere lower than in the past, he declared. On the other hand, they had not fallen to the extent which wheat prices had dropped.

Delegates Set For Home

NEW POLITICAL PARTY ADVANCED FOR ALBERTA

Drumheller, Alberta.—An independent political organization for Alberta, drawing its support from all spheres of life and from all old political units, was announced by F. C. Moyer, Independent M.L.A. for Drumheller, in an attack on the Farmer Government of Alberta. Mr. Moyer was giving an account of the past session of the Alberta legislature to his constituents.

"This new party, to be called the Provincial Party, is a development and enlargement of the Independent idea in Alberta politics, uniting all ideas in opposition to the present government and uniting all who are prepared to contribute their ideas and efforts toward the betterment of the province," Mr. Moyer declared.

"It is not a Conservative movement, it is not a Liberal movement. It is not the Farmer or Labor Party in a new guise. But we welcome all who seek not the success of a party but of a people. No one person or group has a monopoly of wisdom, so we seek all classes that we may have a cross-section of the life of the province."

In launching the plans for organization of the Provincial Party, Mr. Moyer emphasized that it would be based on the Independent principle. No candidate who was elected under the auspices of the new party would be forced to follow the dictates of the party's cabinet if it were elected to power in Alberta.

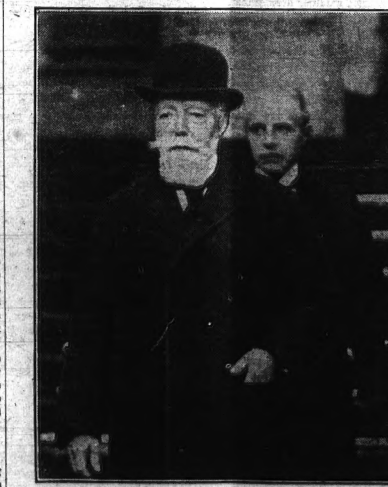

"We want the elected members to go on the floor of the legislatures and speak as their judgment dictates. This of course," he said, "involves the abolition of the old rule that the defeat of a government bill means the resignation of the ministry. But why should the government resign except on a want of confidence motion? The mayor does not resign if some idea of his is overruled."

"We believe this system will result in better legislation and better legislators. If you keep a child in swaddling clothes it will never develop to much of a man, and if you stutify the intelligence and expression of a private member of the government side, by making him simply a voting unit, you may lose the aid of one who might have developed into a real counselor. Why should not our legislation be the thought of the majority of the whole legislature instead of the majority of the government group?"

On the proportion of votes cast at the general elections in Alberta in 1930, said Mr. Moyer, the Independents should have nine representatives in the legislature. Instead, they had only three.

Referring to organization, Mr. Moyer said that because he was the present leader of the group of three Independents, it did not necessarily follow that he would be the leader of the Provincial Party. "Many strong men will be found in our ranks after the next election, and it is for them to elect a leader," he declared.

FRENCH PRESIDENT VICTIM OF ASSASSIN'S BULLETS

The report of the death of President Doumer of France as a result of assassin's bullets shocked the world. Doumer was one of the most popular presidents France has had, and his death at the hands of a fanatical Russian was a sad blow to his country. This photograph was taken recently as he was leaving the Senate Chamber in Paris.

Salvage Crews Working On Grain Elevators

Estimated Loss From Incendary Fire Set At $75,000

Meacham, Sask.—Salvage crews have commenced in the work of clearing up the debris of the three local elevators which were destroyed by incendiary fires May 7, with a resultant loss of 70,000 bushels of grain. Estimated loss from the fires, including loss of wheat, has been set at $75,000.

It is expected that the work of clearing up would take about two weeks. The Saskatchewan Wheat Pool, Alberta Pacific Grain Company and Standard Grain Company, owners of the three elevators, have signified their intention of rebuilding the structures.

R.C.M.P. are still investigating.

Alberta Commission To Investigate Banking

Canadian Finance In General Will Be Subject Of Study

Edmonton, Alberta.—Appointment of a commission to make a thorough study of Canadian finance and banking and investigation of systems of leasing public lands instead of home-ownership or outright selling of land was announced by Premier J. E. Brownlee. The commission will also study finance in general.

Through its investigation of the Canada Bank Act, which will be one of its primary functions, the commission will be instructed to bring in a report in anticipation of revision of the act slated for the next session of the Dominion parliament.

Allowed To Sell Cattle

Moscow, Russia.—Russian farmers have been given the right to sell their cattle in the retail markets for the remainder of 1932. This marked another step in the liberalization of the Soviet farm code, to encourage individual farmers—whether collective or independent—to seek the open market.

Creation Of Federal Farm Board Considered

Announcement Made At Ottawa By Hon. Robert Weir

Ottawa, Ont.—A commission of experts will inquire into the feasibility of creating a farm products marketing board.

Hon. Robert Weir, Minister of Agriculture, announced in the House of Commons that in view of the Imperial Economic Conference the government did not consider the board should be established at the present time.

A marketing board, to deal with exports of agricultural products has received considerable study in the past few months. Members from all parties in the House have contributed to the discussion.

It was understood the board's activities would apply not only to butter but to many farm products in which the exportable surplus is relatively small in comparison with the domestic consumption.

One of the board's functions would be to handle the export surplus in such a way that Canadian prices would not fluctuate widely, due to the domestic price being affected by the world figure.

MILLIONS VESTED IN DOUKHOBOR HOLDINGS IN WEST

Victoria, B.C.—The extraordinary situation by which an enterprise valued at nearly six and one-half million dollars has been vested in the hands of Peter Veregin and 13 directors by the 5,000 Doukhobors of British Columbia, Alberta and Saskatchewan, is revealed in a study of the articles of incorporation.

With Veregin sentenced to three years in penitentiary following a perjury conviction in Yorkton, Sask., British Columbia authorities are watching carefully the future of the colonies in this province. It is stated that according to the constitution of the colonies it must be in the power of the 13 directors to expel the entire 5,000 members, under certain circumstances, and unless the government intervened. Such an action by the directors is very unlikely as the directors have a payless army rolling up an increasing bank account. Veregin recently stated under oath that he had accumulated some $700,000 during the past few years.

Incorporated as a Dominion corporation in April, 1917, with extra provincial registration in British Columbia, the Christian Community of Universal Brotherhood, Limited, of Canada, is capitalized at $1,000,000. Of this capitalization, $700,000 is paid up. But the issued shares are held in the names of Peter Veregin and 13 directors.

The colonists enjoy all belongings while members of the community, but have no right of ownership, having dispossessed themselves of such right some two years ago at a meeting in Brilliant, B.C. Members leaving or expelled forfeit their rights to property and may petition the supreme council of community economists which can allot them a share from the community's properties.

This latter provision, it is believed, has caused much of the Doukhobor trouble. The expelled Sons of Freedom are dissatisfied with the shares allotted them and have shown their indignation by nude parades and other activities which have brought them into conflict with the authorities. They refuse to attempt any court action against the community on the ground that it is against their religion.

Three courses are open to the 13 directors now that Veregin is under sentence. They may appoint a new leader, ask for a receivership, or request a winding-up order. It is believed disintegration might follow either one of the latter two courses while a continuance of the present arrangements may not be acceptable to the young generation, who are said to be developing views in conflict with those of their elders.

Total Doukhobor holdings in Canada are shown as more than 67,000 acres of land, which, with other properties, are given a valuation of nearly $4,500,000. Doukhobor activities in the three western provinces, outside of farming, include saw mills, planing mills, granaries, a box factory, a stove pipe factory, jam and canning establishments, fruit packing houses and a grain elevator.

Total Doukhobor assets in British Columbia are nearly $4,500,000; in Saskatchewan more than $1,500,000, and in Alberta more than $500,000.

STAND TAKEN ON IRISH QUESTION IS CRITICIZED

Manchester, England.—"What reason is there for presenting a pistol at the Free State legislature while it is still only discussing the oath bill?" asked the Manchester Guardian editorially in connection with the British Government's declaration that should the bill for abolition of the oath of allegiance be made law, Britain could not enter into any further agreements with the Free State.

"The underlying motive," the Manchester Guardian continued, "perhaps springs from Mr. Thomas (Dominions Secretary) affection for poker. He has at tight with a good hand for what has for him been a long time. He has seen Eamon de Valera getting the publicity and the limelight and he thinks now is the opportunity to call his bluff."

"It seems rather a dangerous game to play. Something or other, no doubt, the government would have to say Valera could not be both a caustical Republican and a loyal citizen of the commonwealth. The opportunity would have come fittingly at Ottawa when in the presence of the other members of the commonwealth the absurdity of De Valera's position could have been brought out."

"The strength of the British case has lain largely in the knowledge the Dominions are on our side."

The News-Chronicle of London, Liberal organ, complains this country appears to be leaving preparations for the Ottawa Imperial Economic Conference too much to Ottawa. The result so far, it adds, has not been particularly happy, making Prime Minister R. B. Bennett's position, "which is never very easy, quite unnecessarily difficult."

Delegates Will Come From All Dominions

Full Representation Assumed For Imperial Conference At Ottawa

Ottawa, Ont.—Mutual advantage by every section of the far-flung Empire will be the objective of the Imperial Conference, which opens in Ottawa, July 21, said Premier R. B. Bennett, during an hour devoted to considering problems to be faced at the commonwealth gathering.

Preparations were well advanced, he said. Committees were gathering information on the three broad subjects to be discussed—trade, communications and currencies.

The Prime Minister will head the Canadian delegation and ministers will be called in, depending upon the subjects under review. Every Dominion has accepted the invitation to be represented, and with the exception of New Zealand and the Irish Free State have named their delegation, Mr. Bennett said.

Special Tax Levied

Judges and Mounties Now Pay Tax Per Cent On Salaries

Ottawa, Ont.—Members of the judiciary, of the military, naval and air forces of Canada and of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, other than enlisted men, will be required to pay a special income tax of 10 per cent upon their salaries during the fiscal year, 1932-33. They were not liable to pay this previously.

A resolution to this effect, in the name of the Minister of Finance, has been placed on the order paper of the House of Commons.

May Not Attend Conference

Irish Free State Not Likely To Send Delegates

Dublin, Irish Free State.—Political circles outside the government looked with concern on statement by J. H. Thomas, British, Dominion Secretary, that abolition of the oath of allegiance to the British crown by the Free State would mean Great Britain could enter no more agreements with this country. "It looks like the end of the Free State is conceded," they said.

Preserve Historic Spot

Wellington, New Zealand.—Lord Bledisloe, Governor-General of New Zealand, and Lady Bledisloe, have purchased "Rangahiri," the most historic spot in New Zealand and the place where the treaty establishing British sovereignty was signed in 1840, and will present it to the nation. The action prevents it falling into the hands of one of the United States who had been making offers.

proved by delegates at the annual session held in Montreal recently.A modest Scotchman, in speaking of his family, said: "The Douglas family is a verra, verra auld Scotch family. The line runs awa' back into antiquity. We dinna ken hoo far back it runs, but the history of the Douglas family is recorded in five volumes. In about the middle of the third volume, in a marginal note we read, 'About this time the world was created.'"Mine workers at Luscar have broken from the Mine Workers' Union of Canada, and have set up a new independent local union. Trouble between native-born Canadian miners from Nova Scotia and Ontario and alleged Communists in the union has been rampant since the M.W.U. of
C. affiliated with the Workers' Unity
League, Communist, some time ago.
The breaking away of Luscar leaves
